Descendants of John Hugh Wilson

Generation No. 1

1. JOHN HUGH¹ WILSON was born 1689 in Londonderry, Ireland, and died July 09, 1773 in Letterkenny Twp, Cumberland, PA.

Notes for JOHN HUGH WILSON:

From "Scotch-Irish Pioneers in Ulster and America" Early settlers of Londonderry comprised many who remained but a short time and moved on to new plantations. In July and August, 1718, from five to seven hundred Protestant immigrants from Ireland entered the Port of Boston. Several followers of the Rev. Mr. McGregor set out early in autumn for Andover where they spent the winter. In 1719 there were seventy families at Nutfield, Mass. though not all of Scotch-Irish connection. Wilsons that were on this list included BENJAMIN WILLSON, ELIZABETH WILLSON, MARY WILLSON, THOMAS WILLSON, WILLIAM WILLSON, JAMES WILSON and ROBERT WILSON. The immigrants were given a 10 mile square tract of land for a town of their own. A list of proprietors of Londonderry in 1722 records about 100 Scotch-Irish land owners.

Frank Shepherd in WILSON-BAIRD HISTORY states this John is John Hugh Wilson, and born about 1675 in Scotland.

The following account is from OUR WILSONS, GASTONS, AND HUTTONS, Herman Wilson Craven, Washington D.C. 1926

The first Wilson of our family of whom we have positive information was one of the defenders of Londonderry, northern Ireland, in 1689. According to uncertain tradition as it came down to Martha Wilson, her sister Lucinda, and her brother Joseph, his name was John. The Protestant forces, loyal to William and Mary, were shut up in the town by an army commanded by the deposed King James who soon departed leaving the command to another. There was fierce fighting. Famine and pestilence threatened to wipe out the entire population within the walls; but the defenders successfully withstood the siege lasting one hundred and five days. Macaulay in his History of England gives a vivid account of this siege.

JOHN WILSON, son of the defender of Londonderry, came to America and married Nancy Brackenridge, who came to this country from Londonderry when she was twelve years of age with her brother, her parents dying on the voyage over. (See JOHN WILSON for more)

This is a study of the emigration from Northern Ireland of persons of Scottish and English descent. Chapters are devoted to the Scotch-Irish settlements in Pennsylvania, Maryland, South Carolina, and Massachusetts and include valuable lists of early pioneers. In addition, considerable space is devoted to the redoubtable settlers of Londonderry, New Hampshire. The book's extensive appendices contain lists of great genealogical importance, including (1) petitioners for transport from Northern Ireland (1718); (2) hometowns of Ulster families, with names of the Scotch-Irish in New England from presbytery and synod records (1691-1718); (3) members of the Charitable Irish Society in Boston (1737-1743); (4) names of fathers in the Presbyterian baptismal records in Boston (1730-1736); and (5) names of ships carrying passengers from Ireland to New England (1714-1720). Biographical information, which is to be met with throughout the volume, is rendered instantly accessible by reference to the formidable index.

THE WINTER OF 1718-19 IN BOSTON

In July and August, 1718, from five to seven hundred Protestant immigrants from Ireland entered the port of Boston. Several followers of the Rev. Mr. McGregor set out early in the autumn for Andover where they spent the winter. Others as we have seen went to Casco Bay and the Kennebec River.

Family ties no doubt drew some into the neighboring towns, although all trace of these influences have been lost. Among the early emigrants who came probably from the north of Ireland many were scattered through towns not known thereafter as distinctly Scotch Irish settlements. Where we find one family others are almost certainly to be found, disguised it may be by an English name. The following names are given as an indication of the wide distribution of the emigrants. Some families are merely known to be Scotch, others are Presbyterians who brought their babies to the Rev. Mr. Moorhead in Boston for baptism, while in still other instances the home town in Ireland has been or can be found by reference to Page 154 the local church records.¹ James Long was in Charlestown, John Tom in Cambridge, Thomas Karr or Carr, John Pike, James Lindsay, James Taggart and John Brownlie in Roxbury, Robert Burns and James Aull in Medford, James Moor in Chelsea, Jeremiah Smith and John Longhead in Milton, Archibald Thompson and Thomas Henry in Bridgewater, and John Kennedy, with Abraham Hunter, at Braintree. At Concord lived Samuel Henderson; ROBERT WILSON was at Malden, Alexander Smith at Billerica, Thomas Little, Charles Richards, John Moor and James Gordon at Shirley, Daniel Ritter and Thomas Harkness at Lunenburg, Thomas Bogle at Sudbury, John McClure at Woburn and JAMES WILSON at Lexington. Dugall McCombs was at Western, John McAllister at Westboro, David McClure at Brookfield, Andrew McElwain at Bolton, James Cargill at Mendon, Walter Beath at Lunenburg and at Boothbay in Maine, William Leman at Wiscasset, and Mrs. James at Annapolis. John Nichols lived at Freetown, John Wood and James Henry at Providence, and Archibald MacKaye at Pomfret in Connecticut.

With James Glasford at Leicester was Matthew Watson who came from Coleraine in Ireland. James Smith of Needham brought a letter from the church

¹ I am indebted to my sons Stanwood and Geoffrey for many references to Scotch Irish in country towns.

.....from an Irish port with one of Ireland's Presbyterian ministers on board, and arrived at Charleston, probably in the summer of the year 1714.

Evidently there were a few Scotch Irish in and near Charleston, and on the rich lands between Philadelphia and Wilmington, at an early date. In New York also they held a place, and in the Presbyterian churches on Long Island. But in no case did the migrations before 1718 have great influence. They were, it is true, responses to a spirit of discontent and unrest in Ulster, but low rates of transportation on account of trade in tobacco had their force as well.

Such were the conditions at the opening of the year 1718. Yet we shall see that in less than a decade after Boyd and McGregor had set foot in New England, the ports of Philadelphia, Newcastle and Charleston were swarming with the Scotch Irish. James Logan of Pennsylvania reported in 1727 the arrival of eight or nine emigrant ships that autumn, and in 1729 six vessels in a single week came into port.

Before the year 1718 the growth of Scotch Irish influence and numbers cannot safely be measured by the spread of Presbyterianism, yet its early ecclesiastical history is of contributive value. In the year 1704 or 1705 the ministers who gathered in Philadelphia to ordain and install the Rev. Jedediah

Page 35 Andrews of Boston agreed to form a General Presbytery. These men were:

Francis Makemie, Rehoboth.

Nathaniel Taylor, Upper Marlborough.

John Wilson, Newcastle.

George McNish, Manokin.

John Hampton, Snow Hill.

Samuel Davis, Lewes.

Jedediah Andrews, Philadelphia.

Although the Scotch Irish have their full share in this list of ministers, the people who listened to their sermons were very largely of Scotch and English ancestry; and in the next decade their growing families and the arrival of their friends from abroad so increased the number of Presbyterians that in 1717 the General Presbytery became a Synod with four presbyteries, Philadelphia, Newcastle, Snow Hill, and Long Island,¹ and twenty-nine ministers.

Twenty years later the number of ministers had trebled,² for the great tide of migration which was identified with New England in 1718 soon turned toward Philadelphia.

THE SCOTCH-IRISH OR THE SCOT IN NORTH BRITAIN, NORTH IRELAND, AND NORTH AMERICA
CHAPTER XXXVIII LONDONDERRY AND ENNISKILLEN (Seige of Londonderry, 1689)

The enemy with six hundred dragoons on foot and two troops of horse, made a furious attack on MacCarmick. But his infantry stood so firmly and fired with such execution that the enemy began to retreat. The Protestant cavalry, under Montgomery and King, instead of rendering assistance, turned, without firing a single shot, and fled from the field. The dismounted dragoons of the enemy immediately charged. Just then, two troops of their horse coming up surrounded the Protestant infantry and cut them to pieces. MacCarmick's son was killed at his side, and he himself was taken prisoner. Of his whole force only about thirty escaped. Among these was a brave soldier named JAMES WILSON. Surrounded by a number of dragoons, he was assailed by all at once. Some of them he stabbed, others he struck down with his musket, and several he threw under the feet of their own horses. At last, wounded in twelve places, his cheeks hanging over his chin, he fell into a bush. There a sergeant struck through his thigh with a halbert; but WILSON, exerting all his strength, pulled it out, and ran it through the sergeant's heart. By the assistance of this halbert he walked back to En-niskillen. He was afterwards cured of his wounds and survived for thirty years.

Frank Shepherd's genealogy states John and Nancy were born in Ulster

The following account is from OUR WILSONS, GASTONS, AND HUTTONS, Herman Wilson Craven, Washington D.C. 1926

JOHN WILSON, son of the defender of Londonderry, came to America and married Nancy Brackenridge, who came to this country from Londonderry when she was twelve years of age with her brother, her parents dying on the voyage over. He lived in what is now Letterkenny Township, Franklin County, in the noted Cumberland Valley, Pennsylvania. It is said that he settled there as soon as white men could live there. The first settlement in Franklin county was at Falling Spring, now Chambersburg, in 1730. The early settlers in this part of the country often lived on land for years before they acquired any legal right or authority to do so. The steps procuring a complete and perfected title to land appear to have been first, the issuance of a warrant for the survey of the land; second, the survey under the warrant; third the issuance of a patent. But periods of many years often intervened between these steps, the land meanwhile being possessed and sold as if title were complete.

In Letterkenny Township in Cumberland County, PA, John Wilson owned his farm, of which his son Samuel became sole owner nineteen years after his father's death. Approximately, the tract was in the form of a parallelogram, twice as long as it was wide, the longer sides of which ran northwest and southeast.

In WILSON-BAIRD FAMILY genealogy, p. 7, the author (Mr. Shepherd) states that 4 sons and a daughter were born to them: John (II), who moved to Lincoln County, N. C., James, who went to Ohio, and Hugh who went to Georgia; Samuel, who became a Presbyterian Minister at Chambersburg PA, and a daughter who married a Doctor Sharp.

In the "Wilson-Baird Family" genealogy, p. 6, "the records at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania show a tract of 222 acres of land surveyed for John Wilson September 11, 1767, in Letterkenny Township Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, on proprietories warrant bearing date of June 5, 1766. This land lies adjacent to the Rocky Spring Presbyterian Church. The church was organized in 1767 and a log building erected and used until 1794 when a stone building was erected that still stands in good condition. (1943) John Wilson and his wife were charter members and he a ruling elder in its session."

Four miles north and one mile west of Chambersburg is the old Rocky Spring Presbyterian Church. The congregation was organized about 1737 and the present church was built in 1794. JOHN WILSON was an elder in this church.

From MAXWELL HISTORY AND GENEALOGY: (p. 83)

Records at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania show "A Draught of a tract of land situated in Letterkenny Township, in the county of Cumberland, containing two hundred and two acres, and one hundred and fifty-three perches and the usual allowance of six percent, for roads, etc., surveyed for John Wilson the 11th day of September, 1767, in Pursuance of the Honorable the Proprietaries Warrant Bearing Date the 5th Day of June, 1746."

JOHN WILSON survived his wife at least seven years, and died July 9, 1773. The following is his will:

In the name of God, Amen. The twenty-third day of August in the Year of our Lord God One Thousand Seven Hundred and Sixty-eight. I John Wilson of the province of Pennsylvania, Cumberland County and Letterkenny Township, YEOMAN being of perfect mind and Memory, Thanks be given unto God therefore calling unto mind the mortality of my body and knowing it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this my last Will and Testament.

1883 White Co. History Biography of Joseph R. Wilson

"...was born in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, October 28, 1832, and is the eighth of the eleven children born to Hugh and Nancy (Story) Wilson, both natives of Pennsylvania and of Scotch Irish and English descent. Hugh Wilson was a farmer and in April 1869, on the same farm on which he was born, he died, a member of the Presbyterian Church. Joseph R. Wilson worked on the home farm till he was thirty-five years old when he moved to Harrison County, Iowa, bought a farm of 1,250 acres, and engaged in farming and stock-raising until 1875, when he sold out and came to Reynolds where he has ever since been extensively engaged in the lumber trade and the sale of agricultural implements. November 22, 1872, he married Clara Frame, a native of Trumbull County, Ohio. In politics, Mr. Wilson is a Republican."

Notes for NANCY BRACKENRIDGE:

Nancy Brackenridge came to this country from Londonderry when she was twelve years of age with her brother, her parents dying on the voyage over.

3. HUGH³ WILSON (*JOHN*², *JOHN HUGH*¹) died Unknown in Louisville, Georgia³. He married (1) CATHERINE //. She died Unknown. He married (2) CATHERINE. She died Unknown.

Notes for HUGH WILSON:

In the "Wilson-Baird Family", Frank C. Shepherd, 1943, p. 6, he stated that Hugh went to Georgia and "was lost sight of".

The Maxwell History and Genealogy states

"Hugh married Catherine and went to Savannah and afterwards to Louisville, Georgia. He had at least one son, John."

Child of HUGH WILSON and CATHERINE // is:

i. JOHN⁴ WILSON, d. Unknown.

4. JOHN³ WILSON (JOHN², JOHN HUGH¹)⁴ was born 1742 in Northern Ireland, and died January 04, 1799 in Gaston County, North Carolina⁵. He married MARY WRAY Abt. 1762 in PA⁶, daughter of UNKNOWN WRAY and UNKNOWN JORDAY. She was born 1737 in PA⁷, and died April 03, 1830 in Gaston, NC.

Notes for JOHN WILSON:

In OUR WILSONS, GASTONS, AND HUTTONS, by Herman Wilson Craven, 1926:

John and Mary Wray Wilson and others moved to North Carolina in 1764, in which year it is said that a thousand Scotch-Irish families arrived in North Carolina from northern settlements. He was a soldier in the Revolutionary army, and fought either at King's Mountain or at Cowpens, probably the latter. In 1778 he bought about 416 acres of land lying "on the So. Side of Catawba River on the middle fork or Crowder's Creek" in Tyron (now Gaston) County, North Carolina, and bounded in part by the South Carolina line.

In WILSON-BAIRD FAMILY, Frank C. Shepherd, 1943, p. 7:

Moved in company of Colonel John Barber, John's wife's half-brother, traveled the 400 miles up the Old Wilderness Road that passed southward through Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. They established a home on the bank of Crowder's Creek in Lincoln County, North Carolina. They lived there 16 years before the summer of 1780, the Battle of King's Mountain.

The family record of John Wilson (II) as taken from an old Bible published in Edinboro, Scotland in 1761 and now in the possession of Professor L. C. Glenn of Vanderbilt University shows that John Wilson born 1742, married Mary Wray about 1762 and died January 4, 1799. She was born in 1737 and died April 3, 1830. Both are buried in the cemetery at Olney Church near Kings Mountain, North Carolina. It is thought they had eleven children although but nine are mentioned in the record in the bible.

Professor L. C. Glenn was a descendant of the Wilsons and Bairds and in about 1895, visited a Polly Wilson Torrence, who seemed to have been a cousin of his grandmother, Sarah Ann Wilson Torrence. He notated many of her observations. These are on file in his "collection" at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, NC.

An Aaron Wilson, b. January 6, 1776, is listed in this genealogy. It also lists Samuel "Vane" Wilson, born March 17, 1783, d. August 1, 1869, married Miss Owens (author says this is 'questioned').

The author states all of the children except Sarah were born in the log cabin home not far from Olney Church where they attended, about thirteen miles from the King's Mountain Battlefield on Crowder's Creek.

5. JAMES³ WILSON (*JOHN*², *JOHN HUGH*¹) was born July 13, 1743 in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania¹⁰, and died June 08, 1799 in Ross County, Ohio. He married AGNES HENDERSON June 27, 1769, daughter of JAMES HENDERSON. She was born February 14, 1745/46 in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania¹¹, and died June 30, 1796 in Ross County, Ohio.

Notes for JAMES WILSON:

"The records of the Rocky Spring Presbyterian church show that in May, 1796, James Henderson and James Wilson occupied pew No. 38 and that James Wilson vacated in June 12, 1797, probably when he went West. He first moved to Derry Township, Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, but soon went on to Ohio, arriving at Chillicothe May 1, 1798 with his family. Soon moved up onto the Pickaway Plains and settled on Congo Creek, just above its junction with Sippo. Here James Wilson and William McCoy organized a church and served as elders. This was the third Presbyterian Church organized in Ohio, being preceded by one in Cincinnati and one in Chillicothe." [It was called Rocky Spring Church in memory of the Rocky Spring Church back in Pennsylvania.]

From Grandson James H. Wilson's interview by "The Pike County Republican" February 6, 1873: James H. stated his grandfather, this James, moved from Pennsylvania to Ohio in 1797, accompanied by most of his children, his wife having died previously. He and several emigrants clubbed together and built a flat-boat on the Monongahela River, on which they placed their families and floated down to the Ohio river, and thence down that river to where Portsmouth now is, but was then a dense wilderness. They had on board horses, cattle and sheep. The company encamped till my grandfather and uncle John went up to Chillicothe and procured a keel boat and returned with it down the Scioto River. While they were gone, the wolves made sad havoc with their little flock of sheep. When the keel boat arrived at the mouth of the Scioto River, the families and effects were put on it and the boat was keeled up the river. When they arrived at Chillicothe, they found but one house with a shingle roof and that was a log structure. They arrived in the spring season, and the families remained there some weeks while the working portion of the males went to Pickaway Plains and planted a crop of corn, after which the women and children were taken to their new homes.

The Indians had not yet left the country, and used to assemble at the residences of the new-comers and sing their songs which were to the whites a great novelty. But the natives of the forest soon afterward disappeared and melted away into the western forests, leaving their successors, the white settlers, in quiet possession of their "hunting grounds". They continued to cultivate the land and soon the aborigines were almost forgotten. Week after week, month after month, year after year, other settlers crowded in--and they were always welcome--and their children grew up, and soon began to marry, multiply and increase.

My grandfather died in 1797 (sic), the fall after arriving there, and his remains were taken to Chillicothe and buried. Of my grandfather's family, there were six daughters and three sons, viz: Sarah, Polly, Martha, Nancy, Esther, Jane, John, James and William. Sarah and Polly were married before the family came out, and remained in Pennsylvania some years, but afterwards came out and settled with their husbands near here.

From HISTORY OF ROSS AND HIGHLAND COUNTIES, OHIO, (1895?) p. 333

"The first settlement in Buckskin Township was made by James Wilson, who built a house on Buckskin creek near South Salem, in 1799.These houses would be called rough cabins in these days of advanced ideas regarding the style of building and architecture, but at that time were comfortable houses. They were formed of round poles, or of roughly hewed logs, notched at the corners, and rolled together in a nearly square form. Roofs were formed by laying poles lengthwise of the building, which was first raised to the desired height, and covering these poles with bark or with clapboards rived from a solid, straight grained oak and fastened to their places by laying still other poles across them. A hole was sawed or chopped through one end of the cabin to serve as a doorway, and a large stick chimney was built in the other end, which provided the means of securing warmth, and cooking the necessary food. The spaces between the logs in the building was chinked up with chips and sticks, after which it was daubed over with mud, when it was considered really a comfortable house. When first used, a blanket often served as a door, until clapboards could be split, pinned together with wooden pegs, and hung on wooden hinges. Most houses were built in that day without a nail being used in their construction--wooden pins had to answer the purpose, where every article used was brought so many miles on the rivers, or on horseback, to its destination.

Robert Willson [sic], a son of James Willson, settled in the southwest corner of the township, on Paint creek, where he made a home and died. The property is now owned by his son, A. L. Willson. His family were Anderson, William, Newton, Frank, Alfred L., and several daughters. Newton lives in Greenfield.

John H. Willson, also a son of James Willson, married Elizabeth Finch and settled on survey two thousand two hundred and ninety-five, where he died. His children afterwards scattered to other parts, and the property has since been sold. One son, was a physician, and died in New Holland; another, Josiah R., became a dentist, and settled in New Orleans."

The above Robert and John H. Willson, do not seem to fit into this genealogy, although Elizabeth Finch was married to Isaac Wilson. Are there two Elizabeth Finches or is the above account incorrect?

From WILSON-BAIRD HISTORY, Frank C. Shepherd, 1943, p. 126.

James Wilson with his family removed from Franklin County to Ohio about 1797. The records of the Rocky Spring Presbyterian Church show that he gave up his pew in the church June 12, 1797. He died on his farm near where Kingston now stands in Pickaway County Ohio and is buried in Chillicothe (Extract from a letter of H. W. Craven, Seattle Washington to Mr. Shepherd May 25, 1901.)

From "Maxwell history and Genealogy" by Houston, Blaine, Mellette, p. 83-84
The Wilsons were Scotch-Irish Presbyterians.

The first of the Wilson family of whom there is positive knowledge was one of the defenders of Londonderry in 1690. Tradition says his name was John.

John Wilson, son, or probably grandson, of the defender of Londonderry, came to this country and married Nancy Brackenridge, whose parents died on the voyage over.

John Wilson lived in Letterkenny Township, Cumberland (since 1784 Franklin, and originally Lancaster) County, Pennsylvania. He is said to have settled in the Cumberland valley as early as white men could live there. The records at Harrisburg show "A Draught of a tract of land situated in Letterkenny Township, in the County of Cumberland, Containing two hundred and two acres, and one hundred and fifty-three perches and the usual allowance of six per cent. for Roads, etc., surveyed for John Wilson the 11th day of September, 1767, in Pursuance of the Honorable the Proprietaries Warrant Bearing Date the 5th Day of June, 1746."

John Wilson survived his wife and died July 9, 1773. In his will, August 23, 1768, he mentions the following children: John, Hugh, James, William and Samuel.

Of these sons John was born in 1742, married Mary Wray, and died January 4, 1799. He moved to North Carolina about 1764, and fought in the Revolutionary army. He left a number of children, among them being John, Rev. Robert G. Wilson, D. D., pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Chillicothe, Ohio, from 1805 to 1825, and afterwards for many years president of Ohio University at Athens, Ohio; Rev. Samuel B. Wilson, D. D., professor in Union Theological Seminary, Virginia, and William J. Wilson.

Hugh married Catherine (???) and went to Savannah, and afterwards to Louisville, Ga. He had at least one son, John.

Samuel was born in 1754, married Jane Mahon, and died March 4, 1799. He graduated from Princeton, 1782, and after became pastor of the Big Springs Presbyterian Church at Newville, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, and continued the pastorate till his death. He had two children, John and Jane, who married William Sharpe, a doctor.

James Wilson, son of John and Nancy Wilson, was born July 13, 1743. Married, June 27, 1769, Agnes Henderson, born February 14, 1746, and died June 30, 1796. She was the daughter of James Henderson.

The records of the Rocky Spring Presbyterian Church show that in May, 1796, James Henderson and James Wilson occupied pew No. 38 and that James Wilson vacated it June 12, 1797, which was probably when he went West. He first moved to Derry Township, Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, but soon went on to Ohio, arriving at Chillicothe May 1, 1798, with his family. Soon moved up onto the Pickaway Plains and settled on Congo Creek, just above its junction with Sippo. Here James Wilson and William McCoy organized a church and served as elders. This was the third Presbyterian Church organized in Ohio, being preceded by one in Cincinnati and one in Chillicothe

James Wilson died June 8, 1799, on his farm on Pickaway Plains and was buried in Chillicothe. His will, in his own handwriting, made September 20, 1797, is the second will of record in Ross County, Ohio.

From Abstract of Wills, Ross County Ohio 1798-1848: 32, p. 2

Notes for AGNES HENDERSON:

In James H. Wilson's "Interview", he states that his grandmother (Agnes Henderson Wilson) died before the grandfather and his family moved to Ohio.

Children of JAMES WILSON and AGNES HENDERSON are:

- i. SARAH⁴ WILSON, b. April 07, 1770; d. Unknown; m. JOHN SWAN; d. Unknown.

Notes for JOHN SWAN:

See "Great-grandfather's Bear Story" under John Wilson Notes.

- ii. MARY WILSON, b. January 27, 1773; d. Unknown; m. JOHN SHIELDS; d. Unknown.

Notes for MARY WILSON:

In James H. Wilson's "Interview" he names James' and Agnes' daughters as Sarah, Martha, Esther, Jane, Nancy and Polly. This MARY may have been called Polly or maybe her name was Nancy instead of Mary.

Descendants of John Hugh Wilson

Birthdate may have been June 27, 1773 instead of January.

13. iii. MARTHA WILSON, b. March 29, 1779; d. 1824.
- iv. AGNES WILSON, b. February 04, 1777; d. May 10, 1808; m. SOLOMON TEMPLIN, May 05, 1803, Ross County, Butler Twp., Ohio¹²; d. Unknown.

Notes for AGNES WILSON:

In James H. Wilson's "Interview" he names James' and Agnes' daughters as Sarah, Martha, Esther, Jane, Nancy and Polly. This AGNES may have been called Polly or maybe her name was Nancy instead of Agnes.

14. v. JOHN WILSON, b. February 18, 1779, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania; d. September 29, 1856, Ross County, Ohio.
15. vi. JAMES WILSON, b. May 16, 1781, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania; d. January 20, 1870, Pike County, Ohio.
- vii. ESTHER WILSON, b. October 18, 1783; d. May 29, 1856; m. TERAH TEMPLIN, May 29, 1804; d. Unknown.

6. SAMUEL³ WILSON (*JOHN*², *JOHN HUGH*¹) was born 1754 in Letterkenny Township, Cumberland Valley, PA, and died March 04, 1799 in Newville, Pennsylvania. He married JANE MAHON. She was born 1761, and died May 29, 1835 in Newville, Pennsylvania.

Notes for SAMUEL WILSON:

Per "Wilson-Baird Family", p. 6: "Samuel became a Presbyterian Minister at Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. Became pastor of the Big Springs Presbyterian Church at Newville, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, and continued the pastorate till his death. He had two children, John and Jane, who married William Sharpe, a doctor."

Per Maxwell History and Genealogy:

"Graduated from Princeton in 1782 and afterward became a pastor."

Above confirmed in "History of the Early American Presbyterian Church" (U. of Michigan)

Notes for JANE MAHON:

Jane Mahon Wilson married John Heap four years after her husband, Samuel, died. He was late pastor of the Big Spring Presbyterian Church, Newville. Jane died at age 74 and was buried at Big Spring Presbyterian Cemetery, with the gravestone inscribed "wife of Rev. Samuel Wilson". (From GENEALOGIES OF PENNSYLVANIA FAMILIES I, A-HE, Heap Family of Pennsylvania, p. 783). On page 788, "MARRIED, on Wednesday last, at the seat of Mr. David Mahon, near Shippensburg, by the Rev. Francis Huron, John Heap Esquire, of Shippensburg, to Mrs. Jane Wilson, relict of the Rev. Samuel Wilson, deceased, late of New-Ville" Poulson's American Daily Advr., Philadelphia, on Tuesday, 2 August 1883.

8. JOHN III⁴ WILSON (JOHN³, JOHN², JOHN HUGH¹)¹⁵ was born March 06, 1767 in North Carolina, and died October 01, 1838 in Ohio¹⁶. He married HANNAH BAIRD¹⁷ April 23, 1789¹⁸, daughter of ADAM BAIRD and MARY ADAMS. She was born October 05, 1770 in North Carolina, and died September 22, 1837 in Ohio¹⁹.

Notes for JOHN III WILSON:

In the WILSON-BAIRD FAMILY genealogy, it states all of the children were born in North Carolina. The family moved to Ohio to live because of their opposition to slavery.

(Frank Shepherd "Wilsons/Bairds") Uncle John went to part two boys who were fighting at a husking bee and had his nose bitten off. This cost Andy Ferguson a thousand dollars. He did it and died in debt from it. He was Uncle Edwin's first wife's father. John went home with his face all covered with blood and when he struck a light, his wife was so badly frightened that her daughter, born soon after, was always simple.

Notes for HANNAH BAIRD:

Death date by Frank Shepherd is listed as October 1, 1838, which varies from tombstone inscription of September 22, 1837.

Children of JOHN WILSON and HANNAH BAIRD are:

18.

 - xii. NARCISSA Y. WILSON, b. March 15, 1812, Gaston, North Carolina; d. August 14, 1827²³.

9. ROBERT GILLELAND⁴ WILSON (JOHN³, JOHN², JOHN HUGH¹) was born December 30, 1768 in North Carolina²⁴, and died April 17, 1851 in Chillicothe, Ohio²⁵. He married (1) ELIZABETH GILLILAND²⁶ October 07, 1797 in South Carolina²⁷, daughter of ALEXANDER GILLILAND and FRANCES BAIRD. She was born Abt. 1780, and died December 21, 1813 in Chillicothe, Ohio²⁸. He married (2) NANCY KRAFT²⁹ 1818. She died Unknown.

Notes for ROBERT GILLELAND WILSON:

From the WILSON-BAIRD FAMILY genealogy:

Robert was born in the little cabin home on Crowders Creek ten years before the Revolutionary War and attended the Olney Church. He showed a fondness for his books and his parents sent him to Dickenson College in Pennsylvania, from which he graduated in 1790 and studied for the ministry. He was licensed to preach by the Second Presbytry of South Carolina April 16, 1793. His first pastorate was that of the Upper Long Creek Church where he was ordained and installed as pastor May 23, 1797. He also preached at the church at Greenville. While here he married Elizabeth Gilliland, daughter of Alexander and Frances Baird Gilliland.

During the time he was pastor of this charge he was invited to become the Principal of an Academy at Augusta and was also offered a professorship in a South Carolina College, but declined both positions, feeling that he could do more good in the pulpit. He was outspoken against slavery, irritating some members of his congregation. The Presbytry asked him to modify his views. He declined and asked for a letter of dismissal from the Presbytry. In the History of the Chillicothe Ohio Presbytry is a note "August 28 and 29, 1805. Reverends Robert G. Wilson and James Gilliland (brothers-in-law) were received by letters of dismissal from the Second Presbytry of South Carolina". Dr. Robert Wilson was placed in charge of the churches of New Hope and Union, Ohio. He gave up his position at Union in 1812 and continued to serve at Union (later called First Presbyterian Church at Chillicothe) for another twelve years.

In 1818 the College of Princeton (now University of New Jersey) conferred the title of Doctor of Divinity upon him. On May 24, 1824, Dr. Wilson was unanimously chosen as President of the University of Ohio at Athens. He served there for 16 years until old age infirmities no longer permitted him to carry out his duties. He had served 54 years as preacher and teacher.

In Tombstone Inscriptions of Grandview Cemetery, Chillicothe, Ross County, Ohio by the German Genealogical Society, 1992:

"R. G. Wilson, D.D., December 30, 1768-April 17, 1851, in 83rd year; Elisabeth, wife, died December 21, 1813 in 43rd year of her age.

A tribute was prepared by his grandson, Hon. James Wilson McDill, U. S. Senator from Iowa to be deposited in the records of the Chillicothe Presbytry. It reads as follows:

"My recollections of my grandfather all refer to the time when he was an old man and retired from all active work. With reference to that period, I have many, many very happy recollections. It became my pleasant duty to read the newspaper to him every morning. He kept up an active interest in the political affairs of the nation up to the last. And, as I would read to him the Congressional Debates, he would explain to me the differing views of the different parties then in political life. Although I was but a mere lad at the time, yet he took the pains to make all such matters very plain. Such was the accuracy of his estimates that I have never yet found that he erred in his explanations or his illustrations. It seems to me now as I recall those conversations, that he must have been a close student of public affairs and held an intelligent view of the merits of the different questions discussed by public men. I have, since then, seen and known intimately a great many prominent men. I must be partial to him, at least, I know that I loved him, but he seems yet to me as one of the greatest, grandest men I have ever known. There was a personal dignity about him that absolutely commanded respect. and yet, he was a man of the simplest habits and manners,--very approachable and kindly to everyone. He was a true Republican and knew men and women as men and women. Often when the morning reading was ended his mind would go back to his earlier days and many incidents of his early life would be brought forth. In his boyhood he had attended an academy with Andrew Jackson as a member of the school. Grandfather was a graduate of Dickinson College at Carlisle, PA. He told me he had been a classmate of President James Buchanan, but seemed to have no very vivid recollection of Mr. Buchanan. In the case of President Jackson, it was different. He said the incipient hero of New Orleans was, at the time, the worst boy in the school. During the time that Grandfather lived in South Carolina, he had been a neighbor of Patrick Calhoun, father of the celebrated John C. Calhoun. In fact, Patrick Calhoun was an elder in his church. Of the great statesman, John C., he remembers having spent an evening with him upon his return from college. He rather impressed Grandfather as a young man with a very comfortable opinion of his own ability.

Patrick Calhoun, the father, was an able man, a prominent citizen, but of unbounded conceit. At one time he had been appointed by the Governor of the State as an Associate Justice of the Abbeyville District Court of Assizes. This appointment filled him with a very complacent pride. Some little time after this, Grandfather was appointed by his Presbytry to do some missionary work over in North Carolina. Mounting his horse one day, he started for his mission field, and in passing the Calhoun place, Patrick hailed him to learn where he was going. When he discovered his mission, asked if he had any credentials. "None except the proofs of appointment by the State Clerk" Grandfather told him. Calhoun shook his head. "That may do for the kird", the old man stated, "but I'll give you some credentials that will go with the men of the world." He pompously declared and made out a paper which he handed to Grandfather. "That'll fix it." It read "Know all men by the presents that Rev. R. G. Wilson is a duly installed minister of the gospel in good and regular standing in the Presbyterian church and that he is duly commissioned to his presbytry to do mission work in North Carolina. Witness my hand. (signed) Patrick Calhoun, A.J.A.C.Ass."

After leaving the house, Grandfather read over the paper and was convulsed with laughter on seeing the mystic letters that stood for Associate Justice, Abbeyville Court of Assizes, but read so as to give the name of that much maligned stupid and noisy beast of burden. Talking over the incident with me fifty years afterward, the good old man would still be convulsed with laughter at the ludicrous conjunction of the abbreviated letters. I feel that I have written too much already and yet it is an interesting subject and I have often wondered how Grandfather, an old man, could be such a pleasant companion to a mere boy. In thinking of it I am reminded of what Cicero said: 'I approve of a youth who has something of an old man about him, so I approve also of an old man who has something of a young man in him.'

I was at his deathbed. He died as he lived, a Christian. And, no writing has ever been stronger proof to me of the genuineness of Christianity than my recollection of this good man's death. I think he saw through the gates of pearl just as his soul plumed its wings for its flight from the earth."

Notes for JOHN WILSON:
Biographical Profile of Howard County resident, about 1883. This may be this John Wilson, as his father was James and his grandfather was John. The Scotch-Irish, the Chambersburg, and Presbyterian references fit, but his mother's name wasn't Mary Ann Wallace, but Polly Gilleland. His grandfather also had more than 2 children.

Dr. Robert Q. Wilson. The career of Dr. Wilson is another impressive example of push and energy against all obstacles and the consequent rise from comparative poverty to affluence. When he first came to this state in 1843 he had but forty cents. He has made his own way in the world, education himself and honestly earning every dollar he has ever possessed. He has now been so long a resident of Indiana and of Kokomo, doing honor to his profession, that he can well be considered a "stand-by," a pillar of society which cannot be broken down.

Referring first to his genealogy, we may state that his parents, James and Mary Ann (Wallace) Wilson, were Scotch-Irish from the north of Ireland, which section of Christendom has probably furnished the world with more of the best elements of society and of Indiana, proportionally, than any other country of equal area in the world. His father in this country was a furniture dealer and manufacturer of spindles at Concord, Pennsylvania, twenty miles from Chambersburg. While a resident there he was for twenty-five years the Postmaster, and each of his sons served his time in the post office; and when he came west they in succession have taken charge of the office. He moved to Wooster, Ohio, where he passed the remainder of his life, dying at the age of about seventy years; his wife had died many years previously. Both were members of the United Presbyterian Church and were as exemplary in their conduct as any people who ever lived. He was married three times, first to a Miss Ray, by whom he had one child, named John; secondly to Miss Wallace; and thirdly to Mrs. Devor.

John Wilson, grandfather, was also a native of the north of Ireland and died in middle life, a few days after his arrival in America. He had only two children, -- a daughter besides the father of the subject of this sketch. Mr. Wilson's grandfather on his mother's side, James Wallace, was a native of "Erin's Green Isle," a Presbyterian, and emigrated to this land of promise and opportunity, locating in Tuscarora Valley, Pennsylvania, where he passed the remainder of his days, dying at the age of about seventy-five years. His occupation was that of dealing in cattle, driving them mostly to the Philadelphia market.

James Wilson had seven sons and one daughter, of whom four are now living, namely" William, now a resident of Washington, Iowa; Robert Q., who is the subject proper of this biographical mention; Benjamin, a farmer at Wooster, Ohio; and Alexander, residing at Frankfort, Indiana. Dr. Robert Q. Wilson was born in Franklin County, Pennsylvania, November 23, 1822, and was reared in Concord, that state. His first educational training he received in the old-time log-cabin subscription schools. In 1843 he came to Lafayette, Indiana, where he attended the county seminary; but, contracting that tedious malarious disease called ague, he went to Wooster, Ohio, where he enjoyed better conditions and pursued a classical course of instruction under Professor John Ranklin; but it required about three years for him to fully recover from his aguish condition!

Having a predilection for the science of medicine, he began his study, in Wooster, under the preceptorship of Dr. Bissell, and completed it under the guidance of his brother, graduating, however, at Rush Medical College in Chicago. Opening out in practice in Rossville, Clinton County, Indiana, he enjoyed good success and remained there eighteen years.

Descendants of John Hugh Wilson

In 1866 he removed to Kokomo and has ever since been a resident of this city, doing honor to his profession and enjoying a remunerative patronage, except that since 1888 he has lived retired from practice.

October 9, 1848, he was united in marriage with Miss Belle Robinson, a daughter of William and Mary (Eaton) Robinson, and he has had five children, namely: William, Edwin R., Belle, James and Mary, -- the last two being twins. Three of these children died when young; Belle died at the age of twenty-two years; and Edwin R., now deceased, married Miss Alice Riblet, daughter of Daniel and Sarah (Reisinger) Riblet, and had seven children, of whom five are living, -- Fannie, Edna, Elizabeth, Helen and Lois. In 1888 the Doctor suffered the loss of his worthy and estimable wife. In religious matters Mrs. Wilson was a sincere and consistent member of the Presbyterian Church, of which body the Doctor also is an influential member and in which he has served as a ruling elder for many years. They were indeed the prime movers in the establishment and organization of their church here in Kokomo, beginning the work at their own home.

Dr. Wilson is a member of the Masonic order, and in politics is a Republican. He is a fine scholar, Latin being his favorite study and Virgil and Horace his favorite authors. In English the Bible is his first, Shakespeare the second; in fiction Sir Walter Scott is his favorite. Having been educated by his own efforts, he places a high value on his attainment and constantly advises young people intending to take up a profession to obtain first a good education by all means. He is a graduate of Rush Medical College, of Chicago, and in his benevolence he has also assisted several other students at that institution.

He has lost all his family, and has taken to his home the family of his son, Edwin, and adopted them as his own, their father being dead.

12. SAMUEL BLAINE⁴ WILSON (*JOHN*³, *JOHN*², *JOHN HUGH*¹) was born March 17, 1783 in Gaston, North Carolina³⁵, and died August 01, 1869 in Farmville, Prince Edward, Virginia. He married ELIZABETH HANNA 1806. She was born in of Lexington, VA, and died Unknown.

Notes for SAMUEL BLAINE WILSON:

In "History of the Early American Presbyterian Church"

<http://sdsspc1.physics.lsa.umich.edu/amckay/presintr.htm>

"He was christened merely Samuel Wilson. when a young man he added another name and thereafter signed himself Samuel B. Wilson. The b. has been variously supposed to stand for Blain or Baxter - two of his teachers - but on the authority of Dr. Wilson's statement to his grandson, William Caruthers, the b. stood for Brown, in memory of Rev. Samuel Brown, in whose family Dr. Wilson lived for a time while studying theology under him. The degree of D.D. was conferred on him in 1837 by Princeton University."

Also.... He spent four preparatory years with Rev. Joseph Alexander of York District, SC, later in an academy in Spartanburg, SC, taught by Mr. JAMES GILLILAND, JR. and finally in private studies with his brother Robert in Abbeville, SC. He then entered Washington College (now Washington and Lee) at Lexington, VA. He graduated in 1803.

According to "Wilson-Baird History" by Frank C. Shepherd, 1943 and Catherine Fryer Cline, current researcher:

Samuel Blain Wilson, married Elizabeth Hannah. Samuel was the founding Presbyterian minister of Fredericksburg (VA) Presbyterian Church, and served there from 1806-1843, while living in and raising a family in an old house he bought from the estate of an old woman who had died some years before, that woman being MARY WASHINGTON, mother of George Washington. Samuel sold the house when he left there, and it changed hands a few times, including being a rooming house for a time, before anyone bought it for its historical value. It is preserved and open to the public, and Samuel Wilson's grandfather clock is there, and he is referred to liberally in the tour of the house.

He had been asked to be the first President of Davidson College when it was founded, but refused, to stay in Fredericksburg with his congregation. Later, when he did leave, he went to Hampden-Sydney Virginia, then home to Union Theological Seminary, where he was professor emeritus of languages and lived in a brick home called Middlecourt. He died there in 1869, and he and wife Elizabeth Hanna are buried on the campus. Union moved in 1899 to Richmond, and Hampden-Sydney College assumed the campus, and the house, Middlecourt, is now used by the college for the home of the college president. In 1996, the present college president and resident of Middlecourt was SAMUEL VENABLE WILSON. A family connection has not been made yet, but he is a retired General as well as Presbyterian minister. He and his wife Susie most graciously allowed Catherine Fryer Cline to photograph inside as well as outside Middlecourt, as well as the slave quarters, which are now used as a " Guest house"!

A chaplain there, Rev Thompson, who had researched the early years of the college, and has relayed to Catherine Fryer Cline several very interesting anecdotes about Samuel Blain Wilson. There is an oil portrait in the administrative building of Union Theological in Richmond (and a poor copy in the fellowship hall of the church at Fredericksburg) of him. He was a sweet-looking elderly man, quite bald.

Wilson-Baird History gives Samuel Vane (sic) Wilson's birth date as March 17, 1783.

14. JOHN⁴ WILSON (JAMES³, JOHN², JOHN HUGH¹) was born February 18, 1779 in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania³⁷, and died September 29, 1856 in Ross County, Ohio³⁸. He married LUCY TAYLOR April 22, 1802 in Ross County, Ohio³⁹, daughter of WILLIAM TAYLOR and LUCY IMLAY. She was born May 12, 1782 in Ross County, Ohio⁴⁰, and died September 15, 1866 in Ross County, Ohio⁴¹.

Notes for JOHN WILSON:

In the Records of Rocky Spring Church, Highland County, Ohio, April 22, 1810, there were 53 members of the congregation, including John and Lucy Wilson, James and Sarah Wilson, and William Wilson.

In the "History of Carroll County [Indiana], p. 357, the historian states that John Wilson was a son of William H. Wilson. Need to check this discrepancy out. This "History" goes on to state: The Wilsons in America, from whom the subject of this sketch is descended, came from the North of Ireland to the United States, during very early times, the emigrant ancestor being John Wilson, who had five sons, James, the third son, was the father of nine children, of whom John was the fifth child, and the father of eleven children.

Also: "Delphi was first settled in 1828 by William Wilson, Enoch Cox, D. F. Vandeventer, Aaron Dewey, Andrew Wood and Jos. Dunham. By 1849 it contained a Methodist, Baptist and Episcopalian church, about 150 dwelling houses and 1,000 inhabitants."

He came to Ohio at an early date, settling originally in Pickaway County, then to Highland County, and finally to Ross county.

Active participant in War of 1812.

In Finleys "Pioneer Records and Reminiscences of Early Settlers and Settlements of Ross County, Ohio, 1871: p. 132 "Pioneer Businessmen of Chillicothe: John Wilson" p. 69 "Old Settlers, Buckskin Twp. - J. Wilson"

From "An Essay in English 1, sec. 3, by James S. Wilson, Box 119 'MY GREAT GRANDFATHER'S BEAR STORY'" probably written while he was a student at Ohio State University during the 1890s. Provided by Robert S. Wilson, October 23, 1960.

More than a century ago my great-grandfather's family came to Ohio from Pennsylvania. They settled first near a big spring, which is now within the corporate limits of Circleville, but as the surrounding country was low, wet and unhealthful and the Indians quite numerous, they thought it best to go further south nearer the settlements, and into higher and more healthful regions. They next took up a claim near Chillicothe.

Two years later great-grandfather's oldest sister married John Swan, a young hunter and backwoodsman. The young couple soon left Chillicothe, my great grandfather a boy sixteen or seventeen years old going with them. They pressed twenty-six miles to the southward and settled near what is now the village of Cynthiana in the northwest corner of Pike County.

Mr. Swan made his first clearing in a rolling part of the country, building a large two-story log house on the west side of a trail which later became known as Zane's Trace. The spot was well drained but the situation was chosen for the good spring just across the trail opposite the house.

After building his house, his work was to enlarge his clearing. Beginning along the spring brook, as this was the best and easiest land to work, he continued cutting down, burning and deadening the timber, and it was not long before he had quite an open tract surrounding his house. He enclosed his clearing with the regulation stake-and-rider worm fence ten rails high. And as Mr. Swan came to feel more safe and secure he began to increase his livestock. One fall he bought a few hogs. Among them was a fine black sow which during the early winter farrowed a litter of ten pigs, east of the spring, at the root of a large oak tree which the wind had blown down. Mr. Swan was proud of the pigs and took all necessary precautions for their welfare. An old hunter had warned Mr. Swan against the bears that were roaming over the country, and told him that he had better bring the pigs to the house. Mr. Swan thought there was no danger as the pigs were but a short distance from the house and so he left them alone.

But one Saturday night when the pigs were nearly three months, the family was awakened by the barking of the dog and the squealing of the sow and pigs. The men dressed themselves hastily. Mr. Swan seized his gun and hurried out, but they could see no harm done except a few scratches and bruises on the old sow. They went back into the house, watched a while for the disturber of their rest but soon went to bed again.

The next morning when my great-grandfather went out to feed the sow and pigs, he found two of the finest pigs gone and the tracks of a large bear all around the old oak tree. He went back into the house and told Mr. Swan what had occurred. Mr. Swan immediately prepared to hunt down the bear, and after breakfast, he and great-grandfather, who was past eighteen, took up the trail of the bear. Mr. Swan carried the only gun, an old long-barreled flintlock but true and trustworthy when properly handled.

The trail let in an easterly direction for a short distance, then turned slightly to the south and ascended a ridge. At the top of this hill, the bear had turned nearly straight south to Cace's Branch where she faced east, crossed the brook, called her cubs, and they soon made way with the pigs. After their breakfast, the old bear and her cubs went to the eastward and began the ascent of one of the highest hills in that part of the country.

In many respects this is one of the most peculiar and fascinating of all the hills of the neighborhood. It is a mound-like hill standing alone; on the west, northwest, and southwest sides the hill ascends with considerable steepness. While the other side down from the top angle of depression for the first 100 yards where they descend more gradually. At the top of this heavily wooded hill is a spot bare of all vegetation, surrounded with a border of greenbriers, and having a forest as a background.

The hunters had been gaining on the bears, and the old bear first scented the danger when she neared this bare spot. Seeing that flight was impossible with the cubs, she prepared for battle by driving her cubs up a tall shagbark hickory that stood on the edge of the bald knob. The bear was still scolding the cubs when the hunters espied her.

They approached the bear several feet apart; great-grandfather was straight below her. Mr. Swan was south of him. When they were within twenty-five yards of the bear, she reared herself on her hind legs preparatory for the charge. Mr. Swan seeing his chance took true and careful aim---pooh---bang---and the old bear fell forward, rolled, bounded and jumped as if alive right at great-grandfather who was so frightened that he did not move until the bear rolled up against him, knocking him out of her course and stopped again a few feet below him. Mr. Swan had hurriedly reloaded his gun, but his aim had been so true that the bullet had penetrated the bear's heart, and she never moved after she stopped rolling.

They skinned the old bear, cut off such meat as they wanted and cached it and the hide on the branches of the trees. Then they turned their attention to the cubs and tried all conceivable ways to get them down. At last Mr. Swan shot one of them and then the other cub saw its companion on the ground below and soon came down. They captured it, and after skinning the dead cub, they took the other cub and some of the bear steak and went home well pleased with the morning's work. They returned the next day and brought in the hides and bear steak.

The cub at first would cry like a child and refused to eat. He soon began to eat, but the morose crying spells remained with him a long time. He never was tractable and became so cross that they had to kill him before he was two years old.

Per RSW: "This was copied from a photostat copy of the original. Written by James S. Wilson, my father's brother, probably when he was a student at Ohio State University during the 1890s. My cousin, William Davis of Cincinatti, Ohio, who is the son of Mary Davis, my father's sister, provided the photostat for loan while I could copy it. RSW, 23 Oct 60.

From "The Biographical Encyclopaedia of Ohio of the Nineteenth Century" John G. Wilson, M.D.

...[John Wilson]... is the fifth of eleven children, whose parents were John and Lucy (Taylor) Wilson. His father was a native of Pennsylvania, born February 18, 1779, and died September 29, 1856; he was a farmer by occupation, who removed to Ohio at an early date, settling originally in Pickaway county, and thence went to Highland county, where he sojourned for some time, and finally located in Ross county, where he resided until his death. He was an active participant in the War of 1812. His widow died in 1868; she was also a native of Pennsylvania, born on May 12, 1782, a daughter of William Taylor, an early pioneer of Ross county.

From "Historical Discourse Delivered in the Presbyterian Church of South Salem, Ohio on Thanksgiving 1874" by Rev. Robert R. Campbell

Quite a number of the founders of the Church--the WILSONS, and the IRWINS, and the EDMISTONS, and the WALLACES, and the TAYLORS, and others-- emigrated that they might rid themselves of slavery, and came here seeking a free country, where labor would be respectable, and where their descendants might grow up without the blighting influence, which, they wisely foresaw, servitude would have on the dominant as well as on the subject race".

15. JAMES⁴ WILSON (JAMES³, JOHN², JOHN HUGH¹) was born May 16, 1781 in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania⁴⁵, and died January 20, 1870 in Pike County, Ohio. He married (1) SARAH HORN June 19, 1806 in Adams County Ohio, daughter of JOSEPH HORN and MARGARET. She was born 1782 in Pennsylvania, and died 1839⁴⁶. He married (2) ROSANNA FERNEAU Abt. 1840. She was born Abt. 1789, and died Aft. 1873.

Notes for JAMES WILSON:

In James H. Wilson's "Interview", he stated his father, this James, was 16 years old when they moved to Ohio. After the grandfather died, the young women mothered the younger children. In 1801 or 1802 crops were poor and the boys settled near Cynthiana. On the 19th day of June, 1806, James married Sarah Horn. She was from Pennsylvania. They settled in Brushcreek Township, near Cynthiana. There they lived for many years and raised eight children, viz: Joseph H., William H., Nancy M., Eliza G., Louis M., James H., Enos and Julia Ann. As they settled in the woods, James felled the trees, built a log cabin, cleared the farm and wrought out an independence for himself and family. He was a large, stout man, and could endure the hardships he was called to grapple with and subdue. He was noted for his simple, moral habits, great industry and probity of character. He was a member of the Presbyterian church from boyhood, and an elder for many years. He inculcated in the minds of his children precepts of the Christian religion, which took root and grew with them, for all of them belonged to that church except Eliza, who attached herself to the Methodist Episcopal church.

From "Pioneer Records and Reminiscences of Early Settlers and Settlements of Ross County, Ohio" by Isaac J. Finley, 1871:

p. 15 James Wilson came from Kentucky to Ohio, enlisted in the war of 1812 at 15 years, cooper and still living. (This is probably not this JAMES as he would have to have born in 1797, not 1781, although in James H. Wilson's Interview, he stated that James "answered the famous 'general call' in the second or 'last' war with Great Britain, and was out for 60 days for which he received a land warrant." Was this the War of 1812?

In Rocky Spring Presbyterian Church Records, Highland Co., Ohio, April 22, 1810:

James Wilson and Sarah, his wife, members.
August 1816, James Wilson chosen as one of ruling elders.
Dismissed James Wilson and Sally, his wife (about December 1816)
January 15, 1836, Dismissed James Wilson (son?)

Rocky Spring Church was the first religious organization in Madison Twp., Highland County, Ohio and second Presbyterian Church in Highland County. Rocky Spring Cemetery adjoined the church which is situated near Greenfield. The church sunk in ruins after a severe storm in 1876 and many early pioneers of Highland County rest in graves in buried ground, now abandoned.

E. Fullerton Wilson (great-grandson of James Wilson, son of John and Nancy Breckenridge), in a letter dated February 17, 1896, indicated his grandfathers birthdate was May 17, 1781 (not May 16).

18. ADAM BAIRD⁵ WILSON (JOHN III⁴, JOHN³, JOHN², JOHN HUGH¹)⁵¹ was born April 12, 1790 in Gaston, North Carolina, and died November 12, 1856 in Greenfield, Highland County, Ohio⁵². He married MARGERY DEAN⁵³ January 23, 1817 in Greenfield, Highland County, Ohio⁵⁴, daughter of ABRAM DEAN and SARAH STEWART. She was born March 27, 1799 in Thompsontown, Cumberland Co., PA⁵⁵, and died October 04, 1881 in South Salem, Ohio.

Notes for ADAM BAIRD WILSON:

From WILSON-BAIRD FAMILY, pp. 129-131:

Adam B. Wilson was born in the little log cabin home on the banks of Crowders Creek, the little stream that separates North and South Carolina in what was then Lincoln County; born at a time when the abolition of slavery was fast becoming the paramount issue before the people. It was not possible for anyone to occupy neutral ground on it. Not much is known about his early education except that he obtained enough so that in later life he taught the village school for a time in Greenfield. When he was twenty-six he determined to leave the south and find a home in Ohio where his uncle, Dr. Robert G. Wilson, had been living and preaching for more than ten years. Many other of his old friends had gone there and their letters gave glowing accounts of conditions and business opportunities in the state where public sentiment was more in accordance with his own ideas and so, during the summer of 1816 he saddled his horse and went over the mountains and across Tennessee and Kentucky to Highland County, Ohio. The first settlers had come to Greenfield about the turn of the century. Most believed strongly in the abolition of slavery.

He married Miss Margery Dean, daughter of Abram and Sarah Steward Dean on the 23rd of January 1817. They wanted Rev. Dr. Crothers to tie the nuptial knot but he was out of town and a big rain prevented his return since there were no bridges to cross the swollen creek. They had Reverend Dickey read the marriage service for them. They began housekeeping on the farm of Wilson Stewart near the homestead that afterward became the property of E. F. Odell. At the close of the following year they purchased the farm a mile west of Greenfield where they lived and died. Soon after they were settled John Wilson (III) and several of his family from Crowders Creek came to Ohio to make it their home. They had at least 3 sons.

Adam Wilson was a good farmer but in addition to running his farm he taught a school during the winter months in the village as well as administering the office of Justice of the Peace between 1830 and 1840. He was described as a short man of sturdy build and of unlimited energy.

Also.... He helped escaping slaves, secreting them in his hay mow in the daytime and forwarding them further north the next day.

He and his wife were charter members of the First Presbyterian Church in Greenfield, OH, organized June 24, 1820.

On May 19, 1775, a convention was called to meet at Charlotte, Mecklenburg County, NC, about 30 miles from where JOHN WILSON and ADAM BAIRD were living. This convention was to consider what measures could be taken to bring the colonies out of the desperate condition into which they had fallen through the tyranny and misrule of the British King. This convention, presided over by George Brevard, a Scotch-Irishman, held its deliberations in the courthouse and was largely attended by representatives from nearly all the colonies. Resolutions were passed declaring their independence and the resolutions were forwarded to the Continental Congress in Philadelphia.

From History of Ross and Highland Counties, Ohio, pp.428-432

An interesting account of the rise of women in Greenfield in a temperance movement, beginning with a raid in 1865 following the death of the son of John and Drusilla Blackburn who was shot outside a saloon by drunken brawlers. Seventy to eighty ladies marched from the African Methodist Episcopal Church on July 10, 1865. They stopped in front of William S. Linn's drug store and read a "fifteen minutes' notice" and then marched across the street to Hern & Newbeck's saloon where they demanded that the liquors be brought forth. Violence commenced, causing destruction of property and became known as Greenfield women's whisky raid. Following an outraged Drusilla Blackburn, a score of ladies entered the saloon with hatchets drawn as well as other destructive implements. Beer and whiskey kegs were rolled into the street and spilled. Jugs and flasks were poured into the streets. So great were the fumes that some of the women were intoxicated. "The day was the most exciting that Greenfield citizens ever knew." A warrant was later issued and familiar surnames who were arrested were ISAAC FINCH, ELIZABETH WILSON, MARY IRWIN, ELMIRA DEVOSS, ELIZABETH BUSH, LUCRETIA DEVOSS. They pleaded not guilty. A grand jury refused to rule against the ladies. The liquor dealers then brought a civil suit for damages. People who were parties to the suit upon the side of the defense, included the following familiar surnames: FRANK AND ELIZABETH WILSON, ROBERT AND MARY BYRON (BRYAN?), ELMIRA DEVOSS, THOMAS AND LOUISA DEVOSS, MARY J. IRWIN, FRANK WILSON. The prosecuting attorney of the county was W. H. Irwin, esq. An original verdict of $625 damages was assessed and later compromised for nominal sums for damages.

The Women's Crusade was in Hillsborough and the ladies first marched there in December 1873. Some names of those active in the crusade were MARY A. BLAIN, LOUISE AND ETTA DEVOSS, A.J. FINCH, HANNAH FINCH, M.A. IRWIN, MRS. W. IRWIN, JENNIE IRWIN, AND MRS. JOHN F. WADDLE.

Notes for MARGERY DEAN:

Grandson Frank Shepherd recalls she was mother of 12 children. Continued to live in the old home for 25 years after her husband's death. Her grandson remembers her in 1869 as a large woman who smoked a clay pipe. Before her death she had read her Bible through 25 times and was the last surviving charter member of the church.

Marsha Hamilton's genealogy also lists a child Alfred Lee Wilson, 1824-1894. Is this from Frank Shepherd's work? There are already 12 children accounted for.

Marriage Notes for ADAM WILSON and MARGERY DEAN:

(Frank Shepherd) Adam and Margery wanted Rev. Dr. Crothers to tie the nuntial know, but he was out of town and a big rain prevented his return since there were no bridges, a big rain and the swollen creek was running bank-full. "THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH of Washington Court House was organized October 10, 1818, three years after the county (Fayette) was organized. There were thirteen members and James Clark, William Blair, SAMUEL WADDLE, Annenees Allen, and Col. James Stewart, were chosen Elders.....William Dickey came to be pastor in 1817. The church had no house of worship, and meetings could not be held very regularly.....In 1884, the church took a new start.Nine of the old members were still on the ground, and seventeen were received: James Pollock, JOHN WILSON, Isaac Templeton, and Joseph McLean were chosen elders....In the winter of 1847-8, the church was incorporated. About this time J. G. Hopkins came, as a licentiate, to suply its pulpit. JAMES N. WILSON and Eliphas TAYLOR were chosen and ordained elders..... In January, 1867, the Rev. George Carpenter was called to the pastorate.....The church has had some very precious seasons of revival, and has a membership of two hundred. The house of worship has lately been enlarged, improved and greatly beautified, and has a competent corps of elders and deacons, and a good Sabbath school. During the pastorate of Rev. Miller, James Allen, Henry D. Ritter, and JOSEPH BRYAN (perhaps others), were made elders."

Notes for SAMUEL BLAIN OWEN WILSON:

Samuel Wilson became a Presbyterian minister.

S. B. O. Wilson served numerous Presbyterian churches around the Rowan/Iredell County area of North Carolina, including Third Creek, before moving to Tennessee late in life.

Professor of Ancient Languages 1841-1853 Davidson College Davidson, North Carolina 28036

The following is the obituary held by the historian of Mt. Carmel Church. It is quite lengthy but very enlightening and inspiring.

Death of Rev. S. B. O. Wilson

For many years past, in the Presbytery of Memphis, Rev. Samuel Blain Owen Wilson has ranked as patriarch. Since the beginning of the Civil War his home has been in western Tennessee, where he has carried the esteem and respect of all. He died at the home of his daughter Mrs. M. H. Houston at Woodville, Tenn., on Friday, July 14, 1899 in the ninety-first year of his age.

He was a native of Virginia, born May 6, 1809. After studying at Princeton, he finished his preparation for the sacred desk at Union Seminary in Virginia in the year 1834. He has therefore had the distinguished privilege of serving the Lord in the gospel ministry for sixty-five years.

His first charge was at Scottsville and Mars Hill (1834-39); he was ordained by the Presbytery of West Hanover June 15, 1835. From 1839 to 1841 he was the pastor of Hopewell and Six Mile churches in Bethel Presbytery, S.C. For the next twelve years he was a professor at Davidson College, in North Carolina. He was one of the earlier professors there.

From 1853 to the opening of the war he was the pastor of the Third Creek church in Concord Presbytery, North Carolina. In the year 1861 he became pastor at Mt. Carmel church in Memphis Presbytery. Here for twenty-two years, he served an affectionate and appreciative people, until old age crept upon him. Since the 1883, he has been resting and awaiting the call of the Lord.

He came from an honored ancestry. His father was the Rev. Samuel B. Wilson, whose prudent labors as professor at Union Theological Seminary in Prince Edward County, Virginia, continued from November 1841 to August 1869. Such was the esteem in which he was held that in his later life, when afflicted by deafness, every proposal from him to resign his chair was kindly repelled by the Directors. His mother was Elizabeth Hanna, of one of the best families of Rockbridge County, Virginia. Of the three sons of Samuel B. Wilson, two entered the ministry. One was the Rev. James M. Wilson, who labored long at Floyd C. H. Va. His two sons are now in the ministry, Rev. Thornton S. Wilson, of News Ferry, Va. and Rev. Oscar B. Wilson, who is doing such excellent work at the Stillman Institute. The other son (the eldest) was Rev. S. B. O. Wilson, who has just finished his earthly life. He also had a son in the ministry, Rev. John D. Wilson, who died soon after the war.

The funeral services were held the Wilson Memorial church, at Woodville, Haywood county, Tenn., on Saturday afternoon. They were conducted by Rev. F.L. Ewing, D.D. pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. John D. Fleming, of Fulton, Kentucky, and Rev. Lewis D. Hamilton, of the Methodist church. His remains were tenderly laid to rest in the family lot, by the side of his wife and daughter in the graveyard at Woodville. Our correspondent adds: "One of the purest and loveliest characters the writer ever knew."

By Rev. F. L. Ewing

Rev. Samuel Blain Owen Wilson was born May 6, 1809 in Fredericksburg, Va. in the celebrated "Martha Washington house" (note: Ministerial Directory of the Presbyterian Churches also has Mary Washingtons house listed this way.)

He was the son of Rev. Samuel B. Wilson and wife. His father was professor of theology in Union Theological Seminary, Prince Edward County, Va. for the long period of fifty years or more.

The subject of this sketch made the profession of religion and united with the Presbyterian church very early in life. He attended Princeton College, New Jersey, and graduated in 1828. Having been led to feel it his duty to preach the Gospel, he entered upon the study of theology at Union Theological Seminary, where, as said, his father occupied a chair. Here he graduated in 1834.

He was licensed as a probationer April 19, 1834, and was ordained June 15, 1835, by the Presbytery of West Hanover, Synod of Virginia. He was stated supply, 1834-35 of Scottsville and Mars Hill churches of this Presbytery, and from 1835 to 1838 was pastor of these churches.

He was married to Miss Louisa S. Davies, daughter of Rev. John Davies, April 2, 1835.

He was the pastor of Hopewell and Six Mile churches, Bethel Presbytery, Synod of South Carolina from 1839 to 1841; Professor of Languages, Davidson College, N.C. from 1841 to 1853.; pastor of the Third Creek church, Concord Presbytery, Synod of North Carolina from 1853 to 1861; pastor of Mt. Carmel, Memphis Presbytery, from 1861 to 1883.

He resigned his charge at Mt. Carmel church (being in his seventy-fifth year) greatly to the surprise and regret of the congregation, who were warmly devoted to him. With a sore heart and much pain at what he thought to be a wise and necessary step on account of age and supposed inability to meet with the needs and demands of the field, he, with his wife and daughter, moved to Haywood county, Tenn., sometime in the year 1883.

Here, in his declining years, he and his aged companion were tenderly, lovingly and faithfully cared for by others of his children, besides the daughter, who lived there.

Besides this, there was an admirable and beautiful remembrance of, and devotion to, him by members of his former charge at Mt. Carmel, some who made it a point to visit him at least once a year, and others with a greater or less regularity.

And the devotion was mutual and general. Even after Brother Wilson resigned his charge, though now living some twenty-five miles away, he continued to preach to the church, with more or less frequency, for about one year, or until a minister was secured.

As he continued to enjoy remarkable physical and intellectual vigor, he was not willing to give up work, so he began to preach once a month in the Methodist church-kindly offered him by the brethren of that denomination-at Woodville. This work, with occasional visits to neighboring churches, he kept up for twelve years more.

He discontinued his work only when his great age -eighty-seven or eighty-eight years and feebleness made it quite necessary for him practically to lay aside the harness so long and faithfully worn, But even after this, though in this extreme old age, and with his bowed form, he, as a rule, never missed a service of the present pastor. In these services he always, to the joy of the congregation and pastor, took by his own request some modest and small part, as offering one of the prayers. Likewise to the great gratification and edification of all did he assist in the administration of the Lords Supper, yet ever insisting that his help be of a subordinate character. Nor did he, whenever able to attend, absent himself from the sanctuaries of the Methodist and Baptist brethren of the town.

We feel, however, now that he has gone out from among us- and what we may write is not intended for him, and can never reach his ears, but is intended for the comfort and stirring up to emulation of those yet living- that a few words more may be appropriately, and with good reason, added.

First, It goes without saying that our deceased brother was gifted with a fine order of mind. He had those qualities of mind so admirable and useful-fine common sense and judgement. His natural faculties were improved and strengthened by the enjoyment of fine literary and theological advantages.

Secondly, he was a man of very tender, warm and true affections. His love for his family, his friends and the people of his charge was impressive and beautiful.

Thirdly, He was an instructive, able, edifying preacher, richly versed in the varied and inexhaustible fountains of the word of God. He held forth the pure, simple gospel.

He laid stress on the great, fundamental doctrines, such as man's fall, depravity, helpless condition; the incarnation and atonement of Jesus Christ, the Son of God; that his atonement was through a real and true substitution, and by a penal satisfaction. He also laid stress upon the fact that the sinner is altogether dependent upon the work of the Holy Spirit; that He is the active personal agent, through the truth, in a man's regeneration, perseverance and sanctification. He always, altogether and forever discarded and repudiated the doctrine that a poor, guilty, condemned sinner could have any personal merit before God.

He accepted, believed in and ever advocated what are called "the doctrines of grace."

He was a faithful pastor, sympathetic and resourceful, who, on account of his strong individuality and peculiar excellencies, greatly endeared himself to the people of his charge; and all, young and old, who to any degree became acquainted with him fell under his magnetic influence.

One great element of his power was his prayerfulness and devotional spirit. His prayers at the family altar, and in his sanctuary, were inspiring, strengthening and uplifting to an unusual degree. They seemed pervaded and saturated with the very marrow of Bible truth and the spirit of religion. In them, his constant communion with God, and his strong, simple faith were striking evident. The Christian who heard his prayers and was not borne heavenward, might doubt his own piety.

Though not obtrusive as to his views and beliefs, yet when called out, or when there was an occasion or demand to speak, he was ready, and as firm, decided and immovable in his convictions as the rocks, or the unchangeable hills and mountains.

Fourthly, But among our brother's most remarkable characteristics were his modesty and humility. It would be no exaggeration to say that he was modesty itself, he was humility itself, at least if it is proper to say so in a religious sense.

He was, in this new, bold, arrogant, irreverent, iconoclastic age the impersonation of these lightly esteemed rare virtues. Not only might different instances be given, but his whole life was a continuous and lengthy comment upon and illustration of these beautiful adornments of human character.

To mention some illustrations, An admiring friend in a neighboring city, some years ago, desired to get a short but comprehensive sketch of his life, and to obtain his photograph, and to send them for publication to one of our religious papers. By some means Brother Wilson got wind of it. He would not hear of it and at once forbade it.

At another time he was heard to speak to some member of his family in the privacy and confidence of home, and not improbably in a half jesting spirit, to this effect: "Should I have accepted a call to some of the larger churches to which I have been invited, I might have had to study harder, and might have gained a reputation and a name, like some of the famous or more renowned preachers." But as some other preachers have done, "Far from the madding crowd's ignoble strife," he preferred "to run the even tenor of his way."

When plans were being devised and preparations were being made to build the church at Woodville, Tenn., it was decided that in honor to him it should be called "The Wilson Memorial." When he heard of it, he vigorously protested, but his protestations in this instance were overruled.

In giving instructions as to any memorial that should be placed over his grave, he directed that only his name, with the dates of his birth and death should be inscribed upon his tombstone, with the simple words added "A sinner saved by grace."

Among the remarkable and attractive traits of his character, in keeping with the words and the conduct of the Apostle Paul, who said, "Let every one not seek his own, but another's good." was his constant thought for others.

To mention only one instance, his leaving the interesting, pleasant and beloved charge of Mt. Carmel church was, we are informed, because of what he thought would be for the good of that people and the church.

Old as he was and much as he might be thought to live only or chiefly in the past, he was attractive even to little children. He could draw them to him, and win their affection, though ninety years old.

He was a patriotic man, and warmly and practically sympathized with his native South in all her contests, political and ecclesiastical.

Everybody, young and old, religious or irreligious, respected, believed in and loved Brother Wilson. As evidence of the general regard and feeling for him, he was almost universally called "Grandpa Wilson."

With the promise of even yet more years before him, he was taken sick on the third of July and whilst all that medical skill and the tenderest and most constant devotion of loving hearts and willing hands could do for him was done, yet, with a mind clear to the last moment, he gently and sweetly fell asleep on Friday night, the 14th of July.

How wonderful, beautiful and blessed has been his life! Spared to live over ninety years! And sixty-three of these years spent in ministerial and educational work, but chiefly in ministerial. But now his long, precious life on earth and among us has ended. He has gone to his unspeakable reward and to meet the loved ones of his family who preceded him- a son, dying early in the ministry, a beloved wife and daughter.

His funeral services were conducted in the Wilson Memorial church, on Saturday afternoon, by the pastor, Rev. F. L. Ewing, D. D., assisted by Rev. Lewis D. Hamilton, of the Methodist church, and Rev. John D. Fleming, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Fulton, Ky. His remains were tenderly laid to rest by those of his wife in their last resting place in the little graveyard at Woodville. Oh, how often and longingly will we desire to look upon those beloved features again as of old, hear his words, and especially those precious prayers, once more! But God has said, "Come up higher," and has called him home.

With us his name shall live,
Through long succeeding years;
Embalmed with all our hearts can give;
Our praises and our tears.

33. JOHN GILLILAND⁵ WILSON (JOHN⁴, JAMES³, JOHN², JOHN HUGH¹) was born March 19, 1811 in Ross County, Ohio, and died September 1896 in Washington Court House, Fayette County, Ohio. He married LUCINDA MACKERLY 1839. She was born 1808 in New Jersey, and died March 1875.

Notes for JOHN GILLILAND WILSON:

From the notes of Dr. Robert I. Wilson "History of Carroll County [Indiana]":

"In the spring of 1840, he (Robert) removed to Lockport, Carroll County, Indiana, where forming a partnership with an older brother, Dr. John Wilson, who had preceded him thither five years, he commenced the practice of his profession. About 1842, his brother (John), returning to Ohio, the subject of our sketch removed to Delphi, and there entered into a co-partnership with Dr. Samuel Grimes of that place."

From "The Biographical Encyclopaedia of Ohio of the Nineteenth Century" John G. Wilson, M.D.

"Physician and Surgeon, was born, March 19th, 1811, in Ross County, Ohio, and is the fifth of eleven children, whose parents were John and Lucy (Taylor) Wilson. His father was a native of Pennsylvania, born February 18, 1779, and died September 29, 1856; he was a farmer by occupation, who removed to Ohio at an early date, settling originally in Pickaway county, and thence went to Highland county, where he sojourned for some time, and finally located in Ross county, where he resided until his death. He was an active participant in the War of 1812. His widow died in 1868; she was also a native of Pennsylvania, born on May 12, 1782, a daughter of William Taylor, an early pioneer of Ross county.

Dr. Wilson received his preliminary education in the district school, which he attended during the winter months, being occupied the balance of the year in working upon the farm. He so continued until he attained his majority, when he commenced the study of medicine under the supervision of Dr. James Robbins, at Greenfield, in Highland county. He continued with his preceptor for three years, and in the autumn of 1835 went to Dayton, where he engaged in the practice of his profession for about a year with Dr. Henry Varretuye. In 1836 he removed to Lockport, Carroll county, Indiana, where he remained until July, 1841, when he returned to Ohio, and settled in Washington, Fayette county, where he has resided ever since, engaged in the control of an extensive and lucrative medical practice. He has been Infirmary Physician of the county for twenty years, and for some three years United States Examining Surgeon. His political views are those of the Republican party, having previously been a Whig, casting his first Presidential vote against Jackson, and his second in favor of the Harrison electoral ticket. He has never sought nor held any public office of a political responsibility, and has always devoted his whole attention to the practice of medicine and surgery. In religious faith, he is a Presbyterian. Socially, he is a pleasant companion, and courteous in manner, and is highly respected by his fellow-townsmen. He was married, 1839, to Lucinda Mackerly, a native of New Jersey. She died in 1875, and was the mother of two children."

34. ROBERT IMLEY⁵ WILSON (*JOHN*⁴, *JAMES*³, *JOHN*², *JOHN HUGH*¹) was born December 05, 1815 in Ross County, Ohio^{88,89}, and died April 16, 1896 in Lockport, Indiana⁹⁰. He married (1) JANE HOWLETT December 19, 1844 in Delphi, Indiana⁹¹, daughter of PARKER HOWLETT and AMARILLA SUTHERLAND. She was born March 18, 1821 in Syracuse, New York⁹², and died February 13, 1864 in Lockport, Indiana⁹². He married (2) HELEN PARKER Aft. 1864⁹³. She died Unknown.

Notes for ROBERT IMLEY WILSON:

In "Ross County, Ohio Families, Volume II, copyright 1979 by the Ross County Genealogical Society, Robert Imlay Wilson's birthdate is listed as May 12, 1815, and his death date as April 16, 1893.

In Rocky Spring Church, Highland Co., Ohio, April 22, 1810 Records:
April 1816, baptised John Wilson's sone (sic) Robert Early (sic)

Robert Imlay Wilson was a physician.

In the "History of Carroll County" [Indiana], p. 268:

Dr. Robert I. Wilson was born in Ross County, Ohio, December 12, 1815. He was a son of John and Lucy Taylor Wilson and a grandson of James Wilson. Both father and grandfather were natives of Pennsylvania and both immigrated to Chillicothe, Ohio in 1798.

His maternal grandfather, Captain William Taylor, was a native Englishman, who came to the shores of New Jersey at sixteen years of age. Subsequently, Grandfather Taylor joined the Federal army and served as an officer throughout the Revolutionary struggle, and later, drifted to the State of Kentucky, where he became the owner of slaves. But soon becoming averse to the institution of slavery, after disposing of a portion of his slaves, he removed to Ross County, Ohio, with the balance, where he gave them their freedom. Captain Taylor's daughter, Lucy, here formed the acquaintance of John Wilson, the father of our subject, this acquaintance resulting in marriage in 1802. Dr. Wilson was reared on a farm, and received his elementary education in the pioneer common school. This he supplemented by a course of study at the Dayton Academy.

In the spring of 1837, he commenced the study of medicine under Dr. Henry Van Tyle, of Dayton, Ohio, and continued thus for about three years, completing a course in the meantime at the Cincinnati Medical College the fall of 1839. In the spring of 1840, he removed to Lockport, Carroll County, Indiana, where forming a partnership with an older brother, Dr. John Wilson, who had preceded him thither five years, he commenced the practice of his profession. About 1842, his brother returning to Ohio, the subject of our sketch removed to Delphi, and there entered into a co-partnership with Dr. Samuel Grimes of that place.

Here he married Miss Jane Howlett, daughter of Captain Parker Howlett, on December 19, 1844, and, about July, 1854, he removed to Georgetown, Cass County. In the spring of 1847, he again changed to Burnettsville, White County, and finally, in the spring of 1852, returned to Lockport, where he has since lived and continued his profession.

His companion, then the mother of six children, departed this life February 13, 1864.

Dr. Wilson has been a man of enduring constitution, and, being of temperate habits, is well preserved for his years. Ever assiduous in the line of his profession and in the pursuit of fortune, he has been successful and is now the owner of a large estate.

Robert I. Wilson apparently studied medicine with my relative here in Dayton, Ohio, Dr. Henry M. Van Tuyl (sometimes mis-spelled as Van Tyle). Henry's grave is in Woodland cemetery. After Henry's first wife, Rebecca, died leaving him with several small children, he unfortunately married Anna Van Tuyl, his first cousin. This pretty well ruined him socially, I guess. He died of cholera in 1854.)

Old Greenfield Cemetery, west bank of Old Paint Creek

"Just a few feet from the rear wall of the church (what church?) is a plain stone, which bears the name of the venerable preacher SAMUEL CROTHERS, who died July 20, 1856, after almost a half century of usefulness in the community. His tomb is but a few yards from the pulpit where he had so long repeated the words of inspiration, 'There is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave whither thou goest.' This is probably the connection with Isaac Crothers Wilson's middle name.

Notes for ELEANOR FINCH:

Photograph shows name as Ellen Lyle Wilson, b. November 24, 1824, d. March 21, 1851.

Since Eleanor Finch was only 31 and died 11 days after the birth of her last child, the photo is probably of Ellen Lyle, Isaac's second wife. The marriage is recorded in Ross Co. Marriages, shown as April 2, 1873.

Notes for ELLEN LYLE:

Eleanor Finch was only 31 and died 11 days after the birth of her last child, in 1851. Isaac married Ellen Lyle in 1873. In 1870 census, Isaac is shown with MARTHA, age 52 living in his household as housekeeper. Who was that? Another wife? Census would lead one to believe that her last name was Wilson.

37. JAMES H.⁵ WILSON (JAMES⁴, JAMES³, JOHN², JOHN HUGH¹) was born October 22, 1816 in Bushcreek Twp., Highland county, Ohio, and died Unknown. He married ROSE ANN CORE November 07, 1839⁹⁸, daughter of JOHN CORE. She died Unknown.

Notes for JAMES H. WILSON:

The following may not be this James Wilson, but is being entered here until verification is made later:

From HISTORY OF THE SOUTH SALEM PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, ROSS COUNTY, OHIO, Southern Ohio Genealogical Society.

p. 28, Officers of the Church in 1874 included Robert Wilson, Ruling Elder, Alfred L. Wilson, Ruling Elder. A JOHN BRYAN was listed as a former Deacon. Members in 1874 included Robert Wilson, Elder, Catharine D. Wilson, George M. B. Wilson, Sarah Wilson, and Louisa Wilson. (p. 31)

First communion was October 31, 1802; The second communion was held by Rev. William Williamson, the second Sabbath of June 1804, by appointment of the Presbytery, the Reverend ROBERT WILSON, Kentucky, father of the Reverend ROBERT W. WILSON, who once taught in the Academy here and was for so many years the beloved pastor of Bloomingburg. In June 1805, DR. ROBERT G. WILSON officiated at a communion season when nineteen members were received. (p. 5)

There was a Dr. S. CROTHERS who taught theology at Miami University. (p. 10)

James Wilson came in 1800, bought land and lived on Buckskin. ROBERT WILSON, his son became an elder in the church. He lived south of Greenfield on Paint Creek where he had a sawmill. He was a good man, careful and prudent and strove always to make the best possible use of anything that he had. JOHN H. WILSON, another son, led the singing in the church for 40 years, part of the time he was assisted by Richard Junkins. He was often spoken of as Clerk Wilson, or as every one then pronounced the word, Clark Wilson, their speech betraying their Scotch Irish descent. He built and lived in the brick house on the hill a mile or so down Buckskin. His sister, Ellen, was married to Henry TAYLOR, and her daughter married Granville CALDWELL and became the mother of missionaries the Rev. Milton Caldwell and Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Williams. Granville Caldwell was the son of James Caldwell, one of the first school teachers in the township, who came from Chambersburg, PA in 1805. (p. 10)

Rev. Alexander H. Young was installed in the Pastorate in May 1864, and R. W. WILSON gave the charge to the pastor. (p.17-18)

From Historical Discourse delivered in the Presbyterian church of South Salem, Ohio on Thanksgiving 1874 by Robert R. Campbell. The original name of the congregation was BUCKSKIN, so called from the little creek which passes through the township. The first house build on the creek or in the township was in 1779; and the first in this immediate neighborhood was by James Wilson in 1799. These houses were of round poles, or at least the best roughly hewed logs, with mud and chips for filling, formed the walls, and, excepting the capacious fireplaces, everything was on a small scale, affording but little comfort or convenience. Quite a number of the founders of the church--the WILSONS, and the IRWINS, and the EDMISTONS, and the WALLACES, and the TAYLORS, and others--emigrated that they might rid themselves of slavery, and came here seeking a free country, where labor would be respectable, and where their descendants might grow up without the blighting influence, which, they wisely foresaw, servitude would have on the dominant as well as on the subject race. (p. 21)

From "The Pike County (Ohio) Republican" February 6, 1873 ("Old Folks of Pike county Interviewed", No. XXV. James H. Wilson)

I was born in Brushcreek Township, Highland County, Ohio, on the 22nd day of October, 1816. My progenitors on my father's side were from the north of Ireland, and, I presume, were Scotch-Irish of the old Presbyterian stock. My great-grandfather came to this country from Ireland, but I can not say what his given name was. I believe my grandfather's given name was James, but am not certain. He died before I was born. My grandmother Wilson was a Henderson. My father's given name was James. He was born in Pennsylvania, near Chambersburgh, on the 13th of May, 1781. My grandfather came out from Pennsylvania to Ohio in 1797, accompanied by most of his children, his wife having died previously. He and several emigrants clubbed together and build a flat-boat on the Monongahela River, on which they placed their families and floated down to the Ohio river, and thence down that river to where Portsmouth now is, but was then a dense wilderness. They had on board horses, cattle and sheep. The company encamped till my grandfather and uncle John went up to Chillicothe and procured a keel boat and returned with it down the Scioto River. While they were gone, the wolves made sad havoc with their little flock of sheep. I have sat and heard my father tell of these and other adventures many times. When the keel boat arrived at the mouth of the Scioto River, the families and effects were put on it and the boat was keeled up the river. When they arrived at Chillicothe, they found but one house with a shingle roof and that was a log structure. If I am not mistaken, they arrived in the spring season, and the families remained there some weeks while the working portion of the males went to Pickaway Plains and planted a crop of corn, after which the women and children were taken to their new homes.

The Indians had not yet left the country, and used to assemble at the residences of the new-comers and sing their songs which were to the whites a great novelty. But the natives of the forest soon afterward disappeared and melted away into the western forests, leaving their successors, the white settlers, in quiet possession of their "hunting grounds". They continued to cultivate the land and soon the aborigines were almost forgotten. Week after week, month after month, year after year, other settlers crowded in--and they were always welcome--and their children grew up, and soon began to marry, multiply and increase.

My grandfather died in 1797 (sic), the fall after arriving there, and his remains were taken to Chillicothe and buried. Of my grandfather's family, there were six daughters and sons, viz: Sarah, Polly, Martha, Nancy, Esther, Jane, John, James and William. Sarah and Polly were married before the family came out, and remained in Pennsylvania some years, but afterwards came out and settled with their husbands near here. My father was the second son, and he was 16 years old when they came, he having been born May 13, 1781. Some of my aunts were young women, and after grandfather's death, mothered the younger children. They also kept house for the family after grandfather's death for four years, where they first settled. In 1801 or 1802, it was so sickly on the Plains that the boys were unable to raise a crop and inconsistently left their first Ohio home and settled near Cynthiana. If fact, that town is a part of the purchase.

On the 19th day of June, 1806, my father married Sarah Horn. I know but little of her family history. She was from Pennsylvania. They settled in Brushcreek Township, about two miles from my present residence near Cynthiana. There they lived for many years and raised eight children, viz: Joseph H., William H., Nancy M., Eliza G., Louis M., James H., Enos and Julia Ann. As they settled in the woods, my father felled the trees, built a log cabin, cleared the farm and wrought out an independence for himself and family. He was a large, stout man, and could endure the hardships he was called to grapple with and subdue. He was noted for his simple, moral habits, great industry and probity of character. He was a member of the Presyberian church from boyhood, and a elder as long ago as I can remember. He inculcated in the minds of his children precepts of the Christian religion, which took root and grew with them, for all of them belonged to that church except Eliza, who attached herself to the Methodist Episcopal church.

In the second or "last" war with Great Britain, my father answered the famous "general call", and was out sixty days for which he received a land warrant.

My mother died in 1839, and father afterwards married Rebecca Ferneau, who now resides with me at the venerable age of 84. Father died on the 20th day of January, 1870, in his 89th year.

Brother Lewis is dead; so are Nancy, Eliza and Julia. They were married, and each of the sisters left children. All the living brothers and sisters are married and have raised children.

As to myself, I married Rose Ann Core, November 7, 1839. She is daughter of the late John Core, who lived to a great age and died only three years ago last September. We settled on my father's homestead, where we now reside. My wife was born on this farm. We have had six children--one died in infancy. The living ones are Sarah M., Catharine L., Rebecca J. and Lewis C. We were called upon to follow Mary E., the youngest, to the grave nearly three years ago. We have thirteen grandchildren.

For civil office I have never troubled myself to seek, but for several years was justice of the peace in Highland county. Brother Joseph was an elder in the Presbyterian church when he left here for Illinois, many years ago, and brother Enoch and myself sustain the same relation to the church in Cynthiana.

Children of JAMES WILSON and ROSE CORE are:

- i. SARAH M.⁶ WILSON, d. Unknown.
- ii. CATHERINE L. WILSON, d. Unknown.
- iii. REBECCA J. WILSON, d. Unknown.
- iv. LEWIS C. WILSON, d. Unknown.

Notes for LEWIS C. WILSON:

The following seems accurate in content except for Lewis' birthdate and mother's maiden name. James H. Wilson was born in 1816 and his mother's maiden name is Core. These biographies are sometimes inaccurate, relying upon family narrations and recollections, so I'm attaching this, assuming his birthdate is probably 1837.

Pike County, Perry Twp. Biographies about 1888

Lewis Cyrus Wilson was born 23 Jul 1817 in Highland County OH, only son of James H. and Rosana Wilson, who were also natives of Ohio. In 1873, he purchased the mercantile interests of J. E. Dewey, of Cynthiana, and carried on a general mercantile business with success till April 1883, when he sold out and has since devoted his time to farming. He has 214 acres of excellent land in Perry Township, 400 acres in Highland County and 192 acres in Ross County. He was married 08 Nov 1874 to E. A. Steel, daughter of James and Jane Steel, of Scioto Township, Ross County OH. They have been blessed with four sons: James S., Lewis E., Alexander W. and Charles S. Mr. Wilson has served as Postmaster at Cynthiana since 1873. In the spring of 1878, he was elected Treasurer of Perry Township, and served three terms. In 1880, he was elected Land Appraiser in Perry Township, and in the spring of 1883 was elected Township Trustee. He and wife are members of the Presbyterian Church, of which he is a Trustee, and in politics he is a Republican.

- v. MARY E. WILSON, d. 1873.

38. JAMES ALFRED⁵ WILSON (WILLIAM⁴, JAMES³, JOHN², JOHN HUGH¹)⁹⁹ was born Abt. 1814, and died June 18, 1851. He married EMILY MCCULLOUGH MAXWELL July 24, 1845. She was born July 25, 1819 in Jefferson County, Indiana, and died November 11, 1853.

Notes for JAMES ALFRED WILSON:

In the Maxwell History and Genealogy, it indicates that James Alfred Wilson, a Presbyterian minister, was the third son of William and Mary Gaston Wilson.

Notes for EMILY MCCULLOUGH MAXWELL:

Until her marriage, she was a member of the Disciples of Christ.

Children of JAMES WILSON and EMILY MAXWELL are:

Child of MARY WILSON and JOHN COYNER is:

- i. FEMALE⁶ COYNER, b. Abt. 1865; d. Unknown.

40. ESTHER ANN⁵ BARR (JANE⁴ WILSON, JAMES³, JOHN², JOHN HUGH¹) was born February 07, 1827 in Brown, Ohio, and died February 16, 1903 in Blanchester, Clinton County, Ohio. She married JAMES MARSHALL GUSTIN¹⁰⁰ August 26, 1847 in Brown County, Ohio^{101,102}, son of JOHN GUSTIN and ELEANOR MARSHALL. He was born January 26, 1826 in Red Lion, Warren County, Ohio¹⁰³, and died May 28, 1909 in Blanchester, Clinton County, Ohio.

Notes for JAMES MARSHALL GUSTIN:

From "History of Clinton County" and DAR, Vol 80, p. 148, Mrs. George T. (Fannie Gustin) Ball, DAR ID #49409

James M. Gustin, merchant, Blanchester, son of John B. Gustin and Eleanor Marshall was born at Red Lion, Warren County, Ohio, January 26, 1826. His parents were among the early settlers of that county. In 1793, his grandparents came from Pennsylvania and settled at the mouth of the Little Miami River. They remained three years and then moved to Red Lion, where some of their descendants still live. James was reared on a farm until seventeen years of age, when he learned the carpenter's trade. He was engaged ten years rafting lumber down the Yazoo and Mississippi rivers. He then returned to Highland County, Ohio, where he was married August 30, 1848, to Esther A., daughter of John and Jane Wilson Barr, near Hillsboro.

They had 8 children, five living...Joseph H., graduated from West Point in 1875, and assigned to the Fourteenth U. S. Infantry, as second Lt., now in Colorado; Fannie L., George W., Julia and Samuel. The deceased were Eleanor J., John W. and Addie.

In 1836, his parents came to this county and settled about two miles east of Blanchester, where they remained three years and moved to Brown County. Mr. Gustin has been engaged in a variety of occupations, carpenter, millwright, on the railroad, etc. In 1861, he opened a general store, on what is known as Gustin's corner, Blanchester, where he has carried on business ever since. Has a fine assortment of dry goods, boots, shoes, hats, caps, ready-made clothing, queensware, hardware, groceries, etc., stock of from $3000 to $5000, and is doing a flourishing business. He owns a fine brick residence and five acres of land on Main Street, two houses and lots on Main Street near his store, also two farms, one of ___ acres one and one-half miles north of Blanchester, the other 106 3/4 one and one-half miles south of Blanchester, with dwellings, outbuildings, orchards, etc.

Mr. Gustin has also served in defense of his country. He enlisted in the fall of 1864 at Hillsboro as second Sergeant in the one hundred and seventy-fifth Ohio Volunteer infantry, under Captain Wolf. He served 9 months and was in several engagements and was discharged on account of disability at Camp Dennison. Mr. Gustin is a member of the Odd Fellows and FreeMasons. Himself and wife belong to the Free-Will Baptist Church. His death came as the result of Jaundice.

James, his wife Esther and four of their children were on the 1880 Census for Blanchester, Ohio.

She married THADDEUS GUTHRIE August 27, 1879 in Idaville, Indiana¹¹², son of JOHN GUTHRIE and BARBARA FOY. He was born December 09, 1831 in Chillicothe, Ohio, and died May 30, 1910 in Delphi, Carroll County, Indiana¹¹².

Notes for ELIZABETH FRANCES WILSON:

From the "History of Carroll County [Indiana]" notes for Mrs. Elizabeth F. Guthrie:

Mrs. Elizabeth F. Guthrie, widow of Thaddeus Guthrie, Rock township, Carroll County, was born on March 13, 1857, in Adams township of this county, and is a daughter of Dr. Robert I. Wilson and Jane Howlett Wilson. She grew to young womanhood at Lockport, Indiana, and at a proper age was sent to the public schools, after which she attended school at Delphi, and later entered the State Normal School at Terre Haute. After finishing her education, Mrs. Guthrie became a teacher, in which capacity she was engaged for three years prior to her marriage. Guthrie is one of the landowners in Rock Creek township, her farm having about three hundred acres. The home farm is one of the best farms in the county, the management of which is entirely under her own supervision. Mrs. Guthrie is an attendant of the Presbyterian Church at Burrows.

Dr. Robert I. Wilson, father of Mrs. Guthrie, was born on December 15, 1815, in Ross County, Ohio, and was a son of John and Lucy Taylor Wilson. His wife was Jane Howell (Howlett?) Wilson, by whom he had eight children, namely: John W., deceased; Mary B, the wife of Lafayette McReynolds; Emily J., who was married to William Guthrie; Lucy C., who became the wife of Adam Gibson; Louise was united in marriage with Alfred Guthrie; Elizabeth Frances, the widow of Thaddeus Guthrie; James A. H., who was married to Dr. Mary Brown, and Clara M., who died in infancy. After the death of his wife, Dr. Robert I. Wilson was married secondly, to Helen Parker, to which union were born two children, Minnie and Winnie, twins.

Notes for THADDEUS GUTHRIE:

"Carroll County History" gives birth date as December 5, 1831. (p. 357) It goes on to state: He came to Carroll county in 1840. His education was obtained in the public schools of the district. To this union six children were born, Louise F., Winifred B., Lahre A., Mary W., Annie S., and Jane H. Louise F. was graduated from the public schools and afterward became the wife of Christian Blankinship, and is teaching school in North Dakota; Winifred B. is a graduate of the public schools, the Holy Angels Academy, the South Dakota Normal School, and is a student at Indiana State University; Jane H. is a graduate of the high school and is also a student at Indiana State University. [This was probably the present Indiana University.] The prosperous and valuable farm on which Mrs. Guthrie resides and which she manages is known as "Brookside Farm", and is situated ten miles east of , Indiana, on rural route number 1, Rockfield, where she has many warm and congenial friends and acquaintances.

Marriage Notes for ELIZABETH WILSON and THADDEUS GUTHRIE:

Marriage date in "Carroll County History" was August 31, 1879.

Marriage date in "Ross County History" was August 27, 1879.

Children of ELIZABETH WILSON and THADDEUS GUTHRIE are:

- i. WINIFRED B.⁷ GUTHRIE, b. September 24, 1882, , Carroll County, Indiana; d. November 26, 1908, Williston, North Dakota; m. ADOLPH G. ERDMAN; b. August 01, 1883, Posen, Germany; d. April 24, 1950, Quartzsite, AZ¹¹².

53. MARY ELIZABETH⁶ WILSON (ISAAC CROTHERS⁵, JOHN⁴, JAMES³, JOHN², JOHN HUGH¹) was born March 02, 1846 in Ross County, Ohio, and died January 15, 1929 in Sullivan County, Indiana. She married JOSIAH BRYAN November 14, 1867 in Fayette County, Ohio, son of ZEPHANIAH BRYAN and MATILDA WAUGH. He was born September 04, 1842 in Ross County, Ohio, and died November 18, 1901 in Gill Township, Indiana¹¹³.

Notes for MARY ELIZABETH WILSON:

Newspaper article:

WELL-KNOWN ELDERLY WOMAN DIES AT HOME OF SON, ISAAC BRYAN, BODY BROUGHT HERE: (Sullivan, Indiana)

Mrs. Mary E. Bryan, 83 years old, one of the most highly respected and greatly loved older residents of Sullivan, passed away at the home of her son Isaac Bryan in Terre Haute Tuesday morning. Mrs. Bryan has been ill for the past few weeks and despite loving care and expert attention, her weakened condition and advanced age were handicaps that could not be overcome when her illness became so critical.

Mrs. Bryan came to Sullivan in 1904 and has lived here since that time, winning by her pleasing personality friends by the score. The body will be brought from Terre Haute to the Bryan home at 411 North Main Street, but definite funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

The beloved woman is survived by her one son Isaac Bryan and by nine grand children, Viola and Arthur Bryan at Columbus, Ohio, and Mrs. Mary Bryan Scott, Floyd, Earl, Helen, Ruth, Raymond and Faybelle Bryan, the children of Isaac Bryan.

Buried in Carlisle Cemetery.

From "The History of Sullivan County (Indiana)" 1909

".....Josiah and Mary (Wilson) Bryan, both born in Ross county, Ohio, Josiah on September 4, 1842, and Mary on March 2, 1846. Josiah, who followed farming for a livelihood, came to Indiana in 1901, having the year before purchased one hundred and ninety-eight acres of land in Gill township. Here he conducted a successful farming business until his death in November of the same year in which he came to this place to reside. After his death the widow resided on the same farm until 1906, when she purchased a home on North Main street in Sullivan, where she expects to spend the remainder of her days. Josiah Bryan enlisted in 1862, at Chillicothe, Ohio, in Company I, Seventy-third Ohio Regiment, and served three years and nine months. He was slightly wounded in the ankle, and at another time in the stomach. The children of Josiah and Mary (Wilson) Bryan were: Flora, deceased; Louie, deceased; Edward, residing in Colorado; Isaac A., of this notice; and Eva, deceased."

(Also in History of Sullivan County (Edward W. Bryan)..

"(Josiah) went to Kansas from Ohio in 1869 and followed farming for five years, he having purchased school land there to the amount of eighty acres. Subsequently he disposed of the Kansas land and returned to Ohio, remained in Fayette county until he moved to Indiana and located in Sullivan county, where he died in the autumn of 1901."

Josiah Bryan joined the Union Army and served from October 1861 to July 1865, fighting in many battles and being wounded twice. On a scroll 24" x 36", his discharge is handwritten as follows: To all whom it may concern, know ye that Sergt Josiah Bryan has been honorably discharged from the service of the United States...May future generations never forget the debt of gratitude they owe to the brave boys in blue who on land and sea volunteered their services during that memorable struggle for the preservation of our union. Know ye that Sergt Josiah Bryan enlisted on the 26th day of October, 1861 and mustered into the United States service at Camp Logan, Chillicothe, State of Ohio on December 30, 1861 as a Corporal of Co. I, 73rd Regt. Ohio Volunteer Infantry under Captain Lewis H. Burkett and Colonel Orland Smith to serve 3 years or during the War. The Regiment was assigned to the 1st Brigade, 2nd Division, 11th Corps of the Army of the Potomac to April 1864,

Was mustered out and Honorable Discharged with Company July 20, 1865 at Louisville, Ky. by order of the War Department.

Josiah died of typhoid fever after the disease affected his family: his wife, two sons and a daughter. He had moved from Staunton, Ohio little more than a year earlier, to Sullivan, Indiana.

In the HISTORY OF FAYETTE COUNTY, OHIO, by R. S. Dills, 1881, p. 351, Thyphoid Fever, or milk fever is described as follows:

One of the greatest scourges to the early settlers in this county, a disease known as milk-sick or trembles, which not only affected cattle, sheep, hogs, horses and dogs, but the human family as well. Human beings and stock would often be infected with disease without any symptoms manifested until brought into account certain conditions, when it would suddenly develop itself with languid and fatal effects. Cattle driven until heated would become sick if the disease had come upon them. Those who wished to purchase stock, either for trade or for butchering, took means to heat them up previously. Reflecting the symptoms, it has been given various names, such as sour stomach, swamp-sickness, fires, slows, stiff joints, puking, river sickness, etc. Symptoms are vomiting, purging, extreme nervous agitation, obstinate constipation, low temperature of body, dry tongue and skin. Treatment includes soothing the stomach with opiates; blister; use castor oil and injection of nitric acid has also proved efficacious in exteme cases. Gentle emetics, laxatives with quiet and drinks are used. (This article, written in 1881, revealed that little was known about pasturization of milk as a method of controlling disease.)

He is buried in the Carlisle Cemetery.

In Henry B. Baldwin's Genealogical Records, Public Library of Youngstown, a will book index lists the following:

Josiah Bryan W1847 Pike County wb1; p174; c102

Letter written by Josiah Bryan from Lookout Valley, Tenn, March 11th 1864:

"Dear Cousin Elmira as I have lesure time this evening I will try and write you a short letter. Jim and I are both well and in very good spirits. The weather is very fine here, everything looks gay and happy as well cousin. We ae down in old Dixie again we were treated with the greatest of respect by our sodiers boys here. They were all glad to see the old 73 coming back. We have put up food quarters since we came here. Jim and I has a huge shanty put up to live in. The camp rumor is that we will stay here six months. I hope it may be so for I think we have done enough of marching and fighting. Well cousin I have got over the trouble of leaving home. I feel perfectly contented now. I never want to come home again till I come to stay. I received a letter from home a few days ago. I was very glad to hear that Wesley was improving some. I though when I was out home that he wouldn't get over it. Cousin I have just been up the side of Raccoon mountain. I went up thare by myself to read some religious newspapers that ware thew in to my tent this morning. As I sat thare on a large rock nothing to disturb me but the rumbling of a brook thar was a thousand things came into my mind. I just thought of home and friends and of what a good time I had while at home. It seemed to me more like a dream than any thing els. From whare I was setting I could see the Little mountain that we charged up and drove the enemy out of thare breast works. I thought of how many brave boys has fallen thar. I wondered why it was that I was not cut down with the rest. I just thought how thankful I ought to be to God for his protection over me. Cousin I have made up my mind to lead a new life so if I should fall I will be prepared to meet my maker. Well cousin, I will have to close for the sun is about setting and I have to cook some supper. You will please write me all the news. Give my love to aunt and Willey and all the rest of the folks and reserve a portion for yourself. Your true cousin, Josiah Bryan. Write down and often. Direct to Josiah Bryan, co II, 73rd, 2nd Brig., 11th div, Army Corps, Chattannoga, Tenn. [Joseph P. Bryan, Josiah's brother, had a daughter Almira or Elmira. Josiah also had a sister Almira. Since this letter has been preserved, it could have been written to his sister, who would have been 14 years old at the time, and that it was saved by his mother.

Sullivan county, Gill Township Department of Health Record of Death. Died November 18, 1901. Age at death, 58 years; married. Cause of Death, probably Milk Sickness; buried at IOOF Cemetery on November 20, 1901. States father Zephanah Bryan, birthplace of father, Ohio; Mother, Matilda Waugh, born Ohio.

An Obituary in Staunton, Ohio (name is Joseph Bryan, but is obviously Josiah Bryan)

"Mr. George Smith, of Washington Avenue received a telephone message from Sullivan county, Southwestern Indiana, Tuesday, announcing the death of Mr. Joseph Bryan, brother of Mrs. Smith, the cause being typhoid fever, of which disease the entire family, wife, two sons and a daughter, have been afflicted since some time in August. Mr. Bryan and family were well known residents of near Staunton, this county, until they sold their farm and moved to Indiana the first of February last. The deceased is a son-in-law of Isaac Wilson, near Greenfield, brother of the late Dr. John G. Wilson, of this city, and leaves a wife and two sons and a daughter, Isaac, Edward and Eva. He was aged 59 years and was a member of the Seventy-third O.V.I. in the Civil War."

Josiah must have purchased land from his father or borrowed money. At the settlement of Zephaniah's estate, Josiah had to pay a total of $1325.35 to the estate. His portion of the settlement on September 17, 1887 was $118.83.

A carpenter and contractor.

Some in our family say they were related to William Jennings Bryan, who would have been a contemporary of Josiah. The 20th Century Biographical Dictionary of Notable Americans, Vol. 2, p.13

BRYAN, William Jennings, statesman, was born at Salem, Marion county, Ill., March 19, 1860; son of Silas Lillard and Mariah Elizabeth (Jennings) Bryan, grandson of John and Nancy (Lillard) Bryan, and great-grandson of William Bryan, born in Culpeper county, Va., about 1765. His grandfather removed from Culpeper county to Point Pleasant in western Virginia shortly after his marriage, and in 1852 his son, Silas Lillard, was married and removed to Salem, Marion county, Ill., where he was a lawyer of high standing, for eight years state senator, and for twelve years a circuit judge.

Sugar Grove United Methodist Church Records, Washington Court House, Ohio, shows Josiah Bryan on board of trustees, Zephaniah (his father) on board of trustees between 1851-1874, Joseph Bryan was treasurer in 1894, Fletcher Bryan was a trustee in 1875

OBITUARY, July 26, 1894

Louie Bell Bryan, daughter of Josiah and Mary E. Bryan, was born November 8, 1870, in Burlingham, Osage County, Kansas, and came with her parents in the fall of 1874, to the home near Staunton, Ohio, which she so recently exchanged for heaven. She joined the M. E. church and gave herself to Jesus in the tenth year of her age, at Staunton, under the labors of Rev. T. G. Wakefield. From that day until the day of her death, she was a faithful consistent christian. She graduated at the South Salem Academy, June 15, 1893.

Three years ago she went into a decline; although at times she seemed to rally, yet the decline went steadily on. Twice she had to quit school for several months at a time, but the last year of her school days, she attended the entire year, and made up for the time lost in other years. She was ambitious---anxious to succeed. It was her purpose to make life a success. The subject of her graduating address was "A Glance Backward." But in the last graduation, the graduation from earth to heaven, what at a glance as she looked out upon the celestial city; not a glance only, but the beginning of an eternal investigation.

Descendants of John Hugh Wilson

Louis always loved the class room and the prayer circle. She was a Sabbath School worker. She seldom, if ever, failed to read her Bible and pray just before retiring at night. She had read the Bible through several times. She felt that her parents had made sacrifices in her behalf, especially in sending her to school. She was anxious to do something for them. She said to her mother one day, "If it is God's will for me to get well, it is all right; if not, all right. I trust all to Him."

Though she suffered intensely she never murmured. She said, "I wonder if death will bring all my loved ones to Christ." She was organist of Sugar Grove church for four years--the last years of the old church and the first of the new. Her mother said to her, "Jesus is with you and will take care of you." She touched her lips in response, but could not speak. As she looked out into the great future, she beckoned with her hands as though she caught sight of the inhabitants of heaven.

She was a true, faithful christian. If she had an enemy, she did not know it. It was said that none knew her but to love her. Kind, unselfish, thoughtful and very much interested in the welfare of others.

Thursday evening, July 12th, at 4 o'clock, her physical sun went down, aged 23 years, 8 months, and 4 days. But at the same hour her immortal spirit looked out on the rising sun of the eternal morning of joy and progression. And now her sun shall go down no more, but it shall grow brighter and brighter as eternity rolls on.

She leaves a father, mother, two brothers and one sister. Her funeral and burial took place at Sugar Grove on Saturday, the 14th inst. The many that were present was but an index of the high esteem in which she was held. The pall bearers were those who graduated with her at South Salem Academy.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Resolutions of condolence on the death of a member and Sunday school scholar of Sugar Grove.

Whereas: It has seemed good to the Almighty to remove from our midst our late worthy, and esteemed, sister and scholar, Louie Bryan, of Class No. 2.

Whereas: The intimate relations long held by the deceased with the members of this Sunday school render it proper that we should place upon record our appreciation of her services rendered in the different offices of the school. She served faithfully as organist some four years, and Librarian one year, and has been a devoted Sunday school scholar all her life.

Resolved: That in the death of Louie Bryan, we feel we have sustained a loss, yet, while it is our loss, we believe it is her gain.

Resolved: That we deplore the loss of Louie with deep feelings of regret, softened by that hope that her spirit has passed through the Golden gate. And today, she is walking the gold paved streets of the new Jerusalem, where perfect happiness reigns forever.

Resolved: That we tender to her afflicted parents and relatives, our sincere condolence, and our earnest sympathy in their affliction at the loss of one, a daughter, a sister, and a devoted Sunday school scholar, and a true believer in the Holy word, the Bible.

Resolved: That the foregoing resolutions adopted by the Sunday school be established, and a copy transmitted to the bereaved family

71. EDWARD WILSON⁷ BRYAN (MARY ELIZABETH⁶ WILSON, ISAAC CROTHERS⁵, JOHN⁴, JAMES³, JOHN², JOHN HUGH¹) was born November 17, 1873 in Burlingame, Osage County, Kansas, and died April 04, 1916 in Columbus, Ohio. He married EVA L. HYER April 07, 1880, daughter of JOHN HYER and PHOEBE ISGRIG. She was born April 07, 1880 in Ohio, and died Unknown.

Notes for EDWARD WILSON BRYAN:

Edward W. Bryan, who owned an excellent farm, well improved by his own hands, even to the making of fences, in Gill township, Sullivan county, was born November 17, 1873, near Burlingame, Osage county, Kansas, a son of Josiah and Mary E. Bryan, whose family sketch appears elsewhere in this work. The father went to Kansas from Ohio in 1869 and followed farming for five years, he having purchased school land there to the amount of eighty acres. Subsequently he disposed of the Kansas land and returned to Ohio, remained in Fayette county until he moved to Indiana and located in Sullivan County, where he died in the autumn of 1901.

Edward W. Bryan attended the public schools of Stanton, Ohio, and took a commercial course at Valparaiso. He remained with his parents until eighteen years of age, and then commenced the activities of life for himself. He prepared for teaching by attending school at Lebanon, Ohio. At the age of twenty years he commenced teaching school near Stanton, Ohio. He taught two winters near that city, and the next two, near Sabina, Ohio. He then attended the schools of Valparaiso for about four months, graduating there, and then went to Chicago and secured a position with William Wrigley, Jr.'s Chewing Gum House as their bookkeeper. There he continued for two years, and then returned to his parents' home in the autumn. The next spring he went to Indiana with his parents and remained with them until his marriage. He then moved to his farm in Gill township, where he was a general farmer and stockman. He owned seventy acres of land, all of which he improved himself. His farm home was one which made him one of the independent agriculturists of Sullivan county. But on account of ill health he sold his farm and property in Sullivan county and with his family moved to Denver, Colorado, in August, 1908, where he is now engaged in the real estate business. He is an active member of the Methodist Episcopal church, in which denomination he served as trustee for three years. He was also president of the epworth League two years while residing in Ohio. In his political views, Mr. Bryan, like his forefarther, is a Republican.

He was happily married January 22, 1902 to Eva L. Hyer, a native of Ohio, born April 7, 1880, a daughter of John and Phoebe (Isrig). They are still living near Washington Court House of that state. The father is a carpenter and contractor. The date of the mother's birth was March 1850, and of the father's, January, 1845. The children born to Mr. and Mrs. Bryan are: Viola, born January 15, 1903 and Arthur L., born March 13, 1904.

Of Mrs. Bryan's parents' children it may be said that there were two in the family: Jesse, a resident of Washington Court House, Ohio, a school teacher and also a contractor and carpenter. He has taught school since twenty-one years of age. The other child is Eva L., the wife of Mr. Bryan.

72. ISAAC ALVIN⁷ BRYAN (MARY ELIZABETH⁶ WILSON, ISAAC CROTHERS⁵, JOHN⁴, JAMES³, JOHN², JOHN HUGH¹) was born January 26, 1876 in Fayette County, Ohio, and died February 20, 1937 in Terre Haute, Indiana, Vigo County. He married IDA BELLE HOLT January 07, 1903 in Gill Township, Sullivan County, Indiana¹²⁴, daughter of THOMAS HOLT and MARY PROSE. She was born January 09, 1886 in Pickaway County, Ohio¹²⁵, and died January 01, 1956 in Terre Haute, Indiana, Vigo County.

Notes for ISAAC ALVIN BRYAN:

From "The History of Sullivan County (Indiana)" 1909 and 1976

"Isaac A. Bryan, one of the younger farmers of Sullivan County, whose pleasant farm home is situated on the rural mail route running out from New Lebanon, is a native of Fayette county Ohio, born January 26, 1876, a son of Josiah and Mary (Wilson) Bryan, both born in Ross county, Ohio, the father (Josiah) September 4, 1842, and the mother (Mary) March 2, 1846. The father (Josiah), who followed farming for a livelihood, came to Indiana in 1901, having the year before purchased one hundred and ninety-eight acres of land in Gill township. Here he conducted a successful farming business until his death in November of the same year in which he came to this place to reside. After his death the widow resided on the same farm until 1906, when she purchased a home on North Main street in Sullivan, where she expects to spend the remainder of her days. Josiah Bryan enlisted in 1862, at Chillicothe, Ohio, in Company I, Seventy-third Ohio Regiment, and served three years and nine months. He was slightly wounded in the ankle, and at another time in the stomach. The children of Josiah and Mary (Wilson) Bryan were: Flora, deceased; Louie, deceased; Edward, residing in Colorado; Isaac A., of this notice; and Eva, deceased.

Isaac A. Bryan received his education at the village schools of Stanton, Fayette county, Ohio. He remained with his father until the latter's death and with his mother until his marriage, and the estate was then divided between the mother, his brother and himself, Isaac A. remaining on the old homestead place. It contains sixty-four and a fraction acres, upon which he carried on a general farming and stock business. He made great changes and excellent improvements after taking the farm, including the clearing of some of the land, fencing and other conveniences needed about a first-class place, making it one of the best equipped places in his township. He sold his estate in Gill township and purchased ninety-three acres in Hamilton township. This place is known as "The Marlow" farm and is located about four miles northeast of Sullivan.

In his church faith, Mr. Bryan is identified with the Methodist Episcopal denomination, and has been president of the board of stewards in this church. Politically he is a firm supporter of the Republican party. On January 7, 1903, he was married to Miss Belle Holt, who was born in Pickaway county, Ohio, January 9, 1886, a daughter of Thomas and Mary E. (Prose) Holt, who came to Indiana in September, 1898, locating in Gill township on a farm, and he also operated a threshing machine. The father (Thomas Holt) died February 7, 1908. The mother (Mary E. Holt) still resides in the township. The date of the father's birth was August, 1866, and the mother's the same year. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan are the parents of three children; Mary Louise, born January 10, 1904; Doris Waneta, born December 28, 1906; and Floyd Theodore, born June 2, 1908. Mr. Bryan is a member of the New Lebanon Modern Woodmen of America Camp No. 5488, and carries for the protection of his family a thousand dollar policy."

Isaac and Ida Belle were married at home of Ida's parents. Witnesses were John E. Hart and Mattie J. Prose. Wedding performed by Theodore K. Nillis??

NOTE FOUND IN PERSONAL EFFECTS OF IDA BRYAN:

Isaac Alvin Bryan, son of Josiah and Mary Wilson Bryan, was born January 26th, 1876 at Stanton, Ohio, and departed this life February 20, 1937 at the age of 61 years, 25 days. He came to Gill Township, Sullivan County, with his parents in 1901 and was united in marriage to Ida Holt, January 7th, 1903, and moved to Hamilton Township in 1908 where they lived until they moved to Terre Haute 9 years ago. (1928).

Mr. Bryan was engaged in farming as long as health permitted. when a young man he united with the Methodist Church, and at the time of his death he was a member of the Shelburn Methodist Church. Although not able to attend church the last few years, he enjoyed the services through the radio.

All who knew and loved him will remember him for his love and kindness to his family, his friendliness to mankind, and his patience during his last sickness.

He leaves to mourn his loss the widow, Ida, four daughters, Mary Scott of Sullivan, Ruth Lowe of Terre Haute, Helen and Fay Bell at home, three sons, Floyd of Allendale, and Earl and Raymond at home; two grandchildren, James and Patricia Ann Lowe. A daughter, Doris Clark, his parents, three sisters and one brother have preceded him in death.

"The day is done, and the darkness falls from the wings of night,

As a feather is wafted downward from an eagle in his flight.
And the night shall be filled with music,
and the cares, that infest the day,
shall fold their tents, like the Arabs,
and as silently steal away."

Notes for IDA BELLE HOLT:

Notes for IDA BELLE HOLT:

The following is an article written by Ida. It is unknown the purpose of the article.

WEAVING--MY PROFITABLE HOBBY

I have always been interested in doing handcraft work. Have done bead work, fancy pillow cases and all kinds of embroidery and crocheting. I like to work with colors, so I have painted many pictures and designs on glass. Mat weaving on hand looms has been another interesting hobby of mine.

My husband and I had a large family consisting of five boys and three girls. Opportunity for carrying on my hobbies was rather limited until my family was grown. After the death of my husband, I found it necessary to try to commercialize on my handwork. While making the mats, I had the urge to try a loom. I felt that I could make more profit with a loom.

First I studied ways and means to purchase a loom and where I might be able to secure materials. For I didn't want to use all old clothing and discards for rugs. I located a local dealer who sold strips of materials, blanket material and cotton mixtures by the pound. I saw an advertisement of warp in a magazine. I mailed a card and they sent samples and price lists. On March 9, 1942, I sent to Boonville, N. Y. for a Union Special Loom. It came threaded up with enough warp to make 12 yards of carpet. A book of instructions came with it with illustrations of how to thread it up. The loom, freight included, cost me $36.89. So began my first weaving experience. It was nothing to weave, as I had years ago watched a weaver as she made rugs for me on an old fashion kind of loom.

As I used up the warp, I became rather anxious as to how I was going to get the loom threaded up again. I had purchased additional warp so with the aid of the book of instructions I proceeded to warp up the loom. When I had it all threaded up, something was wrong, it just would not weave. There seemed to be no tension whatever. I studied the instructions sheets again and again. I tried to contact two or three whom I had been told had formerly owned looms. Finally in a distant town, I located a man whose mother had woven rugs. He came and together we studied the instruction book and the loom. I discovered that I had not brought the warp up over the back bar. Since then I have learned lots of tricks in threading up the loom. I have taught several to thread and weave.

When World War 2 came and warp was a scarce item, I tried out the seersucker weave. It takes less warp and makes a beautiful rug. This weave used four threads then skips four threads. The finished product has a weave that looks very much like seersucker.

I have used all kinds of materials. Silk hose, feed sacks, used clothing and upholstering materials. I do quite a bit of work for an upholsterer here. This material is cut about 1 inch wide and I double it as I weave it. It takes longer this way, but then the rugs are alike on each side and are very pretty.

During the War when materials became so scarce, a lady brought me some material to weave her some rugs. Upon inquiry, I found that the material was strips which came from a tire shop that did recapping. These strips lined the boxes the rubber came in and had been burnt until her husband brought some home to her and she had boiled the material in lye water removing the chemical, the result being yards and yards of cream colored cloth that looked like handkerchief linen. These strips then were dyed different colors and made up into very beautiful rugs.

Silk hose cut length-wise in about 3 strips, not cutting all the way through at the ends in order that the hose will remain in one piece, make very pretty rugs.

I am partially crippled, but I try to keep up my 9 room house, tend a flower garden, can fruits and vegetables, cook for one some and have a lot of callers in the run of a day. Yet I always find time to do some weaving every day.

The warp which I use costs me .66 and .69 per lb. 8 lbs will warp up 150 turns on the loom. This will weave around 52 rugs of 4 feet each. For rugs woven for any merchant, I receive $1.25 per rug when sold in dozen lots, otherwise I charge $2.00 per cotton rug. If I have the materials cut and tacked, I can weave 6 4-foot rugs per day.

I like to buy rug materials in strips. From these I make panel rugs which will weave about 6 to 8 rows across. Since I do not cut the strips all the way through at the ends, I do not have so much tacking to do. The cost of warp for each rug averages about 12 cents. 15 to 25 cents worth of materials. If a rug is made from feed sacks, four sacks will be required to make a 4 foot rug. Strips of about 1 inch wide.

I cut and tack materials of an evening and listen in on my favorite radio programs.

I have enjoyed the many friends made through weaving. I have a friend who supplies the materials, prepares it for weaving and then sells the finished rug.

I charge 25 cents per foot for weaving when the material has already been prepared for 30 cents per foot if I cut and tack the materials furnished by my clients.

I do not believe that there is any other work that I could personally do that would give me time for work in my flowers and garden, visit with my friends, do my own housework and be my own boss and yet be as profitable to me as "My Profitable Hobby Weaving".

News item for Doris Juanita Bryan Clark:

YOUNG WOMAN DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Mrs. Doris Bryan Clark Died Saturday Afternoon at Home of Her Parents

Mrs. Doris Bryan Clark, the wife of Paul Clark, died Saturday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac "Brown" (sic), north of the city, after a short illness.

The funeral was held at the Methodist church in Shelburn Monday afternoon, and was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Bedwell. Burial at Little Flock Cemetery.

Mrs. Clark was a graduate of the Sullivan High School, and for some time was an assistant in the office of Charles Coffman, county treasurer. A few months ago her marriage to Mr. Clark occurred.

She underwent an operation at the Sherman hospital a few weeks ago for appendicitis. She apparently recovered from the operation and was taken to the home of her parents. However, complications developed a few days ago that resulted in her death.

OBITUARY:

Doris Juanita Bryan Clark, second child of Isaac and Ida Bryan, was born December 28, 1906, southwest of New Lebanon. She departed this life at 2:40 p.m. Saturday, April 10th at the home of her parents northeast of Sullivan.

Reared in Sullivan County, Mrs. Clark gained her early education in the Sullivan County schools and graduated from the Sullivan High School with the class of 1923. When but ten years old, she united with the Shelburn M. E. church and through life remained a true christian.

After graduation from high school, Mrs. Clark was employed for some time as an assistant in the office of County Treasurer Charles Coffman. She resigned her position in November and was united in marriage on November 23, 1925 to Perry Paul Clark. Only a few weeks of married life was enjoyed by the happy couple, for on January 28, 1926 Mrs. Clark was rushed to the Mary Sherman Hospital for an emergency operation for appendicitis. The operation was apparently successful and a few weeks ago, Mrs. Clark was able to go to the home of her parents. Complications however set in and her condition became critical. Patiently, Mrs. Clark bore her suffering, hopeful to the last that she would get well and a few minutes before death she asked God's help to bear out her suffering.

She is survived by her husband, Perry Paul Clark, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bryan, three brothers: Floyd, Earl and Raymond, four sisters: Mary, Helen, Ruth and Faye, by her two grandmothers Mrs. Mary E. Holt and Mrs. Mary E. Bryan and a host of other relatives and friends.

OTHER NOTES:

Rev. Bedwell brought the message of sympathy and consolation to the bereaved family and friends, while three favored sacred hymns were sung by Mrs. Mayme Anderson, Mrs. Tressa Allison, Mrs. Sadie Wern and Mrs. Orr.

Flower girls, who carried the profusion of beautiful blossoms typifying the love and esteem in which the deceased was held, were Dercie Hawkins, Dorothy bunch, Roberta Clark, Ruth Welsh, Kathryn Milam and Mabel Scott. Pall bearers were Basil Godfrey, Herbie Frakes, Dallas Turpen, George Scott, Fred Clark and Bailey Hawkins.

Notes for RUTH LUCILE BRYAN:

Divorced from Kenneth Lowe July 27, 1961.

Ruth graduated from Wiley H. S. in Terre Haute. She worked as a housewife and later as a farm wife when they moved to a farm in 1941. The family did not get electricity in the country until about 1945 and did not have an indoor bathroom until about 1947. After her divorce from Kenneth, she worked at various jobs...as a cashier in the cafeteria at Rose Hulman Institute of Technology, a cashier at Columbia records, and as a seamstress in a coat-making factory. She stopped working shortly after her marriage to W. J. Wells in 1966. After his retirement, they enjoyed their winters in Cortez, Florida. They enjoyed dancing and went with friends to Shrine functions. After being widowed, Ruth still enjoyed going to Florida. Until the last year of life, she spent the summers in a small home near her son, Gene and his daughter, Lori. While in Florida, she became too ill to travel back to West Terre Haute and spent her remaining days living with daughter, Pat, in Bradenton, Florida.

Notes for KENNETH RAYMOND LOWE:

Kenneth enjoyed outdoor activities as a child and an adult. He hunted and fished. He also played basketball in school. He attended school in Lost Creek township in Vigo County (Glenn H.S.) and had to quit in the 10th grade. His family could not afford to buy his books.

After leaving school he worked on farms putting up hay and following a thrashing machine. His first job was with Lowden Processing Plant in Terre Haute. The plant processed vegetables. His first full-time job began in 1931 at the Quaker Maid (Ann Page) factory in Terre Haute. The factory produced Ann Page food products. He worked there until his retirement. He worked most of that time in maintenance of equipment.

Daisy Hollingsworth

— CENTENARY — Daisy Hollingsworth, 92, of Centenary, passed away at 4 a.m. Friday, Feb. 9, 2007, in Union Hospital in Terre Haute.

She was born March 23, 1914, in Lyford to Wilson J. Wells and Clara Jane Wittenmyer Wells. She is survived by her three daughters and their spouses, Judy and John Polomski, Connie and Dick Lowry, all of Clinton, and Vickie and Roger Hollingsworth of Scotland, Ill.; seven grandchildren; 18 great-grandchildren; sister, Lilly Fox of Clinton; and many nieces and nephews. She was preceded by her parents; her husband of 49 years, Homer Hollingsworth, on Dec. 23, 1981; three sisters, Phyllis Wheeler, Bessie Hollingsworth and Mona Fay Wells; four brothers, Jessie Wells, Quincy Wells, Robert Wells, Jr. and David William Wells.

She was the last charter member of the Calvary Baptist Church in Clinton, and was very active having taught Sunday School for more than 60 years until her health failed her. She was a loving wife, mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother. She loved her flower gardens and her yard, but most of all she loved her family. She will be greatly missed by her family and her church family.

Services are Monday at 10 a.m. in Frist Funeral Home with the Rev. Kenney Bass officiating. Burial will follow in Roselawn Memorial Park. Visitation is from 4 to 8 p.m. today, in the funeral home. If friends so desire, memorials in her memory may be made to the Calvary Baptist Church. Envelopes will be available at the funeral home.
